Data Privacy Day is observed every year on January 28. A couple privacy best practice Cal Poly adheres to are setting users’ passwords to expire once a year and requiring strong, complex passwords or passphrases of more than 8 characters.