The Liberal Studies Department used to offer two degree programs for our majors, a BA and a BS. The BA Liberal Studies degree was a broad-based interdisciplinary course of study for students that were meeting individual needs and interests. Over time, we focused on our coursework leading to pre-professional subject matter teacher preparation only, which is the current focus of our active BS Liberal Studies. Since the admission to the BA Liberal Studies program has been suspended for the past 13 years, we reviewed the possibility of resurrecting this degree.

The Liberal Studies committee met this week to review our intentions, current and future goals. After analyzing pros and cons, all faculty voted that we discontinue the BA in Liberal Studies. We see no reason to keep this program in our system. Our current offering of a BS in Liberal Studies is the correct degree designation for our curriculum and target students. I hereby formally request that we discontinue the BA in Liberal Studies.
