L. Resolution on Academic Freedom: Foroohar, statewide Academic Senator (pp. 43-46).
M. Resolution on Implementation of Student Administrative Module of PeopleSoft: Foroohar, statewide Academic Senator (p. 47; additional materials to be distributed at meeting).

VI. Discussion Item(s):

VII. Adjournment:
Preparatory: The meeting was opened at 3:10 p.m.

l. Minutes: The minutes for the Executive Committee meetings of March 30 and April 6, 2004 were approved.

m. Communication(s) and Announcement(s): None.

m. Reports:
A. Academic Senate Chair: (Lewis) On Thursday, April 29, Bob Cherny, chair of the CSU Academic Senate, and Kathy Kaiser, Faculty Trustee will be visiting Cal Poly. An open forum has been scheduled for 11 am in 52-E27 followed by a no-host lunch for the Executive Committee members. Everyone is encouraged to attend the open forum. A resolution will be presented at the next Executive Meeting addressing athletic programs. The resolution will state that a 50% graduation rate should be required for athletic teams to participate in post-season competition.

B. President’s Office: (Howard-Greene) the budget’s May revise will still hold some uncertainties and a lingering $2 billion gap for the 2004-2005 academic year. Options continue to be explored even though state tax revenues being reported are better than expected.

C. Provost Office: (Detweiler) (1) Update on administrative searches: COB Dean - search is on track to be completed by the end of Spring quarter. The pool of candidates is encouraging. Athletics Department - preliminary interviews are being scheduled from a good pool of 49 applicants. CLA Dean - an interim Dean will be appointed after considering suggestions from faculty and staff. A search for a new Dean for CLA will begin during Fall quarter. (2) Industrial Technology (IT) Department - and extensive review was performed by a study group after the request from IT to move from the College of Business to the College of Agriculture. The President and Provost considered this request and after review decided that it was not in the best interest of the University to move the IT program. The full report of the Provost’s study group on the IT program is available at the Academic Senate Office. (3) Student Housing North - the US Department of Interior, Fish and Wildlife Services, has notified Cal Poly that the species of snail currently found at the building site is no longer on the endangered list.

D. Statewide Senators: (Foroohar) Statewide Senators will be meeting in 2 weeks. (Hood) An article in the San Jose Mercury-News mentions that San Jose State University voted to recommend the withdrawal from Division I-A and the Western Athletic Conference as a result of the severe cuts of state funding.

E. CPA Campus President: (Foroohar) The CPA Statewide Board of Directors and the CPA Assembly will meet this coming weekend. Campus wide elections for CPA officers will be held the first two weeks in May with all positions being open for election. The deadline to submit nominations is April 30.

F. ASI Representative: None.

G. Other: None
IV. Consent Agenda: None.

V. Business Items:

A. Resolution on the Bachelor of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies: (Hannings, Chair of the Academic Senate Curriculum Committee and Steve Parks, Dean of Continuing Education) the CLA Curriculum Committee, the Academic Senate Curriculum Committee, as well as the Faculty Advisory Committee have reviewed this proposal. This is a self-supporting program aimed to allow working people who have been out of college for some time and have completed all their General Education requirements. A copy of the full proposal is available by clicking on http://www.calpoly.edu/~acadser/news/B.A.%20InterStudies.pdf. MISIP to agendize resolution.

B. Resolution on Cal Poly Modem Pool: Greenwald, Academic Senator. The intent of the resolution is to convey the notion that many faculty and staff feel that having modem access is an important part of their job. The resolution proposes that the Academic Senate request the administration to seek a financial solution to the problem while ITS seeks to solve the technical part of the problem with the modem pool. Hanley mentioned that ITS has created a website specifically to address this issue and to ease the migration and litigation process. The site is available at http://uss.calpoly.edu/MISIP to agendize resolution.

C. Academic Senate Universitywide committee vacancies 2004-2006: Linda Vanasupa from Materials Engineering was appointment to the Distinguished Teaching Award Committee for the 2004-2006 term.

D. Appointment of Academic Senate committee chairs 2004-2005: The following appointments were made:

- Curriculum Committee: Sue Elrod, Bio Sci
- Distinguished Teaching Award Comm.: Mike Geringer, Strat. & Int. Mgmt
- Faculty Affairs Committee: Manzar Foroohar, History
- Library Committee: Barbara Mori, Soc. Sci
- Student Grievance Board: Faysal Kolkailah, Aero Engr.
- US Cultural Pluralism: Michael Lucas, Arch

E. Appointment of Academic Senate caucus chairs 2004-2005: The following appointments were made:

- College of Agriculture: John Harris
- College of Architecture & Environmental Design: Jonathan Reich
- College of Business: John Dobson
- College of Engineering: Jim Harris
- Professional Consultative Services: Lynne Gamble

VI. Discussion Item(s):

ACADEMIC SENATE COLLEGE VACANCIES

College of Liberal Arts vacancy 2004-2005
College of Science & Mathematics John Sharpe (physics) vacancy 2004-2006
GET INVOLVED with the General Education Program!
Apply today to be a member on a GE Committee.
DEADLINE is Monday, April 26, 2004.

Fill out the application below or download from the GE web site: www.calpoly.edu/~acadprog/ged

Who are we?
The General Education Program is a university level program that makes curricular and programmatic recommendations for general education. The program is comprised of a Director, a nine-member Governance Committee, and three seven-member Area Committees. Individuals serving on the committees must have a commitment to the philosophy and conceptual goals of the General Education Program as well as a demonstrated interest in GE. Members of all committees serve three-year renewable terms that are staggered to assure continuity.

What are the responsibilities of the GE Governance Committee?
They are: 1) program development, monitoring, and assessment; 2) recommending approval of courses for GE; 3) encouraging innovation (linked courses, interdisciplinary courses, team teaching, student learning communities); 4) addressing issues related to community-college GE programs; and 5) promoting and coordinating GE-related activities such as conferences, seminars, and speakers. The GE Governance Committee has one-hour meetings approximately every other week during the academic year on Wednesdays 9-10am.

How is the GE Governance Committee selected?
The Provost appoints GE Governance Committee members after consultation with the Academic Senate. The GE Director and eight committee members compose the GE Governance committee: two from the College of Science and Mathematics, two from the College of Liberal Arts, one from the College of Architecture and Environmental Design, one from the College of Agriculture, one from the College of Engineering, and one from the College of Business.

What are the responsibilities of the GE Area Committees?
The GE Area Committees advise the GE Governance Committee on 1) policies related to each GE area; 2) review of new courses proposed for each GE area, and 3) monitoring and assessment of GE courses already in place in each area. The three area Committees are:

- Area AIC: Communication/Arts and Humanities
- Area B/F: Science and Mathematics/Technology
- Area D/E: Society and the Individual

The GE Area Committees meet approximately three times during a quarter, except in curriculum-cycle years when meetings can be more frequent.

How are the GE Area Committees selected?
The GE Governance Committee appoints Area Committee members after consultation with the Academic Senate. The GE Area Committees are composed of seven members each, including one student. At least four of the members and the student must be from departments/colleges in the subject area.

APPLICATION TO SERVE ON A GE COMMITTEE—DEADLINE IS Monday, April 26, 2004

If you have interest in serving on more than one committee, what is your first choice? GE Governance

Do you have any plans to be on leave during the three-year term? No

If so, when are you most likely to be on leave?

As a department chair of a department that offers a significant amount of GE related courses, I have distinct insight in the general education program. I have served on GE committees in the past and want the opportunity to provide additional service to this important area of the university educational process that affects all students at Cal Poly. I have worked on department and college level curriculum committees over the years as well. I also believe that there needs to be more diversity in the department representatives from the college of liberal arts on the various GE committees.

If so, when are you most likely to be on leave?

Please use this space to comment briefly on your interest in serving on a GE committee, and your experience with GE or other curriculum.

I was chair of the senate adhoc GE comm in 1995-97 that created the new GE template and GE governance structure, that moved the univ to a 4 unit curriculum and eliminated creditUn credit (which was at 45 units)... I have served on the GE comm the last 3 years and before that the area A/C comm. I really believe and care about the integrity and importance of GE as the core of the university. thanks. -jch |

Who are we?
The General Education Program is a university level program that makes curricular and programmatic recommendations for general education. The program is comprised of a Director, a nine-member Governance Committee, and three seven-member Area Committees. Individuals serving on the committees must have a commitment to the philosophy and conceptual goals of the General Education Program as well as a demonstrated interest in GE. Members of all committees serve three-year renewable terms that are staggered to assure continuity.

What are the responsibilities of the GE Governance Committee?
They are: 1) program development, monitoring, and assessment; 2) recommending approval of courses for GE; 3) encouraging innovation (linked courses, interdisciplinary courses, team teaching, student learning communities); 4) addressing issues related to community-college GE programs; and 5) promoting and coordinating GE-related activities such as conferences, seminars, and speakers. The GE Governance Committee has one-hour meetings approximately every other week during the academic year on Wednesdays 9-10am.

How is the GE Governance Committee selected?
The Provost appoints GE Governance Committee members after consultation with the Academic Senate. The GE Director and eight committee members compose the GE Governance committee: two from the College of Science and Mathematics, two from the College of Liberal Arts, one from the College of Architecture and Environmental Design, one from the College of Agriculture, one from the College of Engineering, and one from the College of Business.

What are the responsibilities of the GE Area Committees?
The GE Area Committees advise the GE Governance Committee on 1) policies related to each GE area; 2) review of new courses proposed for each GE area, and 3) monitoring and assessment of GE courses already in place in each area. The three area Committees are:

- Area A/C: Communication/Arts and Humanities
- Area B/F: Science and Mathematics/Technology
- Area D/E: Society and the Individual

The GE Area Committees meet approximately three times during a quarter, except in curriculum-cycle years when meetings can be more frequent.

How are the GE Area Committees selected?
The GE Governance Committee appoints Area Committee members after consultation with the Academic Senate. The GE Area Committees are composed of seven members each, including one student. At least four of the members and the student must be from departments/colleges in the subject area.

I feel that GE courses are essential building blocks for a student's education. I believe that breadth and depth are equally important for different reasons. I feel that I am open-minded to discuss all GE issues. I feel that I am an advocate for GE, rather than only representing a College in the university.

I have served GE in several different ways: On the first and second versions of GE at Cal Poly, I was a member of the group that put each together. I was a member of the GE Blue Ribbon Committee. I was either a member or a Chairperson for the Area 0 Committee for several years. I have been a member of the GE Governance Committee for several years. I designed or co-designed three different existing GE courses (Area D, Area F), and continue to regularly teach two of these courses. I continue to be very interested in the welfare of GE.

I believe that both students and society benefit from a broad-based education. Farmers have richer lives with a better understanding of art and artists make better decisions as voters with a better understanding of farming. Currently I am on the Agribusiness Curriculum Committee and chair our farm management concentration committee. Before come to Cal Poly in 1999, I was on the University of Guelph curriculum committee and at different times coordinated the undergraduate and graduate programs for the Department of Agricultural Economics and Business at Guelph. During my time at Guelph I consulted on program development at universities in Australia, Kenya, Uganda and the Philippines. I have published five curriculum related articles and have made several presentations on curriculum at various meetings. Lastly, I am a product of California’s GE requirements. My work as an economist in agriculture has been better because of the broad education I had as an undergraduate.

I teach courses in both areas and have worked to write curriculum for inclusion in both areas when the current G.E. framework was being constructed. I have served on the U.S. Cultural Pluralism committee in the past but as I have been off campus for two years I have not served on any committee recently. As vacancies in these areas have been announced and as my department and colleagues are teaching in these areas, I would like to be able to represent their concerns.

University Center for Teacher Education
"Proposal: Name Change to COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

The University Center for Teacher Education (UCTE) is the academic unit at Cal Poly offering professional education programs, including state-accredited K-12 teaching and advanced preparation credentials and graduate degrees in education. We propose that the UCTE be "renamed the College of Education to (1) recognize its alignment in role and function to other academic units on campus, (2) reflect the nature and breadth of its programs, and (3) enhance the status and visibility of professional education on campus and in the community.

Role and Function

The UCTE operates as a cross-university program in partnership with the Colleges of Agriculture, Liberal Arts, and Science and Mathematics to deliver programs in professional education. Although modest in terms of numbers of faculty and students, the UCTE offers a range of professional and degree programs involving faculty and students from across campus. It serves a diversity of needs as it prepares teachers and other professional educators for the local area and state, and includes a cross-section of students in terms of age, gender, ethnicity, and academic interests. The unit draws on its own core faculty and associated advisors and content educators to create a comprehensive and multi-disciplinary set of programs and activities.

Program Breadth

Since Fall 2000, with the hiring of its first dean, the UCTE has strengthened and expanded its academic programs and collaborative relationships on and off campus and adopted a more complex organizational structure in concert with multilevel programs. The UCTE began as a single organization, with programs informally clustered into three areas: multiple subject teaching credential (elementary education); single subject teaching credential (secondary education), and advanced services/specialist credentials and related master's degrees. Today, the UCTE offers a full range of options, from undergraduate blended programs through master's degrees and the university's first doctoral offering. These programs have been expanded and reorganized into two autonomous departments: the Division of Teacher Education (TED) and the Department of Graduate Studies in Education (DGSE). Each assumes responsibility for curricular, personnel, administrative and eventually, budgetary matters.

The Division of Teacher Education (TED) houses two teaching credential programs: single subject and multiple subject. Each has multiple tracks, with bilingual options, and the multiple subject program now includes a blended undergraduate track with Liberal Studies, as well as the traditional post-bac track. The single subject program options include eight disciplines: agriculture, biological sciences, chemistry, English, mathematics, physical education, physics, and social sciences. Both programs meet the required teacher preparation standards established by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) and are working towards standards set by the National Council on the Accreditation of Teacher Education for national accreditation. Coordinators and advisors for both programs provide leadership and direction, while the UCTE Associate Dean serves as the TED Director, providing division coordination and oversight and serving as the liaison with national and state accrediting agencies.

The Department of Graduate Studies in Education (DGSE) houses advanced credential programs and master's degree specializations in five areas: counseling and guidance, curriculum and instruction, educational leadership and administration, literacy and reading, and special education. A joint doctoral program in educational leadership with UC Santa Barbara received final approval in Spring 2003 and began in Fall 2003. Similar to the teaching programs, the advanced credential programs also meet required CCTC standards and are working towards national accreditation. The master's programs have a common core of educational foundation and research courses as well as coursework and fieldwork specific to each specialization.

Five program coordinators provide leadership on all program matters. The elected Chair provides coordination and oversight for the department, including administrative matters and the academic core components, and works with the Associate Dean on accreditation issues impacting the advanced credential programs.

Status and Visibility

The University Center for Teacher Education has embarked on several major initiatives which have increased its visibility and levels of responsibility. Dean Bonnie Konopak is co-chairing a university-wide presidential effort to expand math and science teacher preparation at Cal Poly through the new University Center for Excellence in Science and Mathematics Education. The $7 million gift from Joseph and Victoria Cotchett to support science and math teacher education ($4.5 million to UCTE, $2.5 million to CSM) has increased visibility statewide for this effort and provided UCTE with funding and status. In recognition of the gift, the UCTE has renamed the clock tower building the Cotchett Education Building.

The current name, University Center for Teacher Education, reflects only a portion of the unit's programs. The graduate programs, including masters, advanced credentials and new doctoral program, need to be acknowledged for their involvement in preparing educators for new and/or expanded roles in schools, district and county education offices, and community colleges.

Furthermore, the term "Center" has come to be equated with independent, academic-affiliated units, for example, the Brock Center for Agricultural Communications (see Administrative Bulleting 87-3, "Guidelines for the Establishment of Centers and Institutes"). In addition, there are also administrative-based centers, such as the new University Center for Excellence in Science and Mathematics Education and the Center for Teaching and Learning.

While the breadth of our programs is generally recognized on campus and by K-12 partners of long standing, the name UCTE is not well understood by other individuals and agencies off campus. A name change would highlight the comprehensive work of our divisions and programs for potential students, new professional partners, and advancement efforts. Based on extensive meetings with faculty, staff and Advisory Board members, including current students, alumni and friends, our constituencies strongly recommend a name change to College of Education in keeping with the reality of a college-level professional education unit at Cal Poly.
Q: Does the unit meet the definition of a "college"?

A: As UCTE discussed reorganization, it investigated whether the CSU had established definitions and/or criteria for academic units and learned that no such policies or guidelines existed. It also found that other universities considering a name change relied on campus definitions or understandings in the absence of systemwide policies (e.g., CSU Hayward).

Although modest in terms of numbers of faculty and students, it offers a breadth of professional and degree programs involving faculty and students from across campus; serves a diversity of needs as it prepares teachers and other professional educators for the local area and state; and includes a range of students in terms of age, gender, ethnicity, and academic interests.

Q: How does "college" describe the nature and function of the unit?

A: As professional education at Cal Poly has expanded in terms of program offerings (e.g., new teaching options, master's specializations, and doctoral program) and curriculum levels (e.g., undergraduate blended, doctoral), it has moved beyond its current name/organization as the University Center for Teacher Education.

Based on faculty and staff planning and decision-making, the unit has formally approved a new division and department to better recognize and support the distinctive nature and function of each group. The multiple subject and single subject programs in teacher education share a common conceptual grounding, adhere to similar state-mandated standards, and have formal ties with other campus units (e.g., multiple subject blended with Liberal Studies, single subject with departments in CAGR, CLA, and CSM) and K-12 districts and schools.

Similarly, the graduate studies programs have common goals for advanced professional preparation and share core coursework and a comprehensive exam for the master's specializations. In addition, the new joint doctoral program in educational leadership is providing the next tier in advanced study for practicing educators in K-14. Consequently, the term "college" better describes the growth in scope of programs and reorganization of the UCTE.

Q: How would "college" assist the unit in supporting and delivering its programs?

A: A name change would assist the unit in several ways. First, the current name--University Center for Teacher Education--reflects only a portion of the unit's programs. The graduate programs, including master's specializations, advanced credentials in service/specialist areas, and the new doctoral program, need to be acknowledged for their work in preparing educators for new and/or expanded roles in schools, district and county education offices, and community colleges.
Second, the term "center" gradually has been used to recognize independent, academe-affiliated units, as well as administrative-based units. This multiple use of the term "center" has proven confusing; for example, UCTE and CTL (Center for Teaching and Learning) are often mistaken for one another.

Third, while the breadth of our programs is generally recognized on campus and by K-12 partners of long standing, the name UCTE is not well understood by other individuals and agencies off campus. A name change would highlight the comprehensive work of our divisions and programs for potential students, new professional partners, and advancement efforts.

Fourth, moving to a college would provide greater recognition for education on campus, similar to other professional disciplines. This move was begun with the Provost's appointment of the unit's first dean and the charge to consider a more complex organization to reflect and accommodate the growth of programs.

Q: How are education units at other CSU campuses structured? Are they similar to the proposed organization?

A: Nearly all CSU education units reflect the structure of other units on their campuses, including 13 campuses with colleges, 3 campuses with schools, and 1 campus with programs (Channel Islands). One campus (Fresno) has all colleges with the exception of a School of Education; 3 campuses include education in professional studies-type colleges. Cal Poly is among the smaller education units in the CSU in terms of number of faculty and students.

Q: Will additional funding be required for a name change to College of Education?

A: No additional funding will be required for moving to a College of Education. As faculty and staff planned for reorganization, the UCTE Leadership Team considered the issue of resources, particularly support for new and enhanced leadership roles (e.g., graduate studies chair) and new division staff positions (reclassification). These critical areas already have received support through reallocated budget funding. However, due to recent budget scenarios that anticipate cuts in funding, additional support will be sought for program coordinators, particularly in the single subject program.

Description

Background

Since its inception in 1933, professional education at Cal Poly has expanded from a single undergraduate program in agricultural education to multiple undergraduate blended and post-baccalaureate credential programs and graduate degree programs in a wide variety of areas. Until the early 1990's, these programs were housed in a department within another college. Then, due to expansion of programs and subsequent need for autonomy, education was reorganized into the independent University Center for Teacher Education under the leadership of a director. Use of the term "University Center" was deliberate; the unit brought together full-time education faculty and faculty from other colleges to collaborate on developing and offering the teaching credential programs and to provide leadership and service to the unit.

For a decade, UCTE functioned as a single organization, with programs informally clustered into three areas: multiple subject teaching credential, single subject teaching credential, and advanced services/specialist credentials and related master's degree specializations. Program coordinators provided leadership to each program area and advanced specialization, with administrative, personnel and budgetary support centralized in the director's office.

Reorganization

In Fall 2000, the first dean was hired in UCTE as an initial step in developing a new organization. A primary goal was the development of a more complex structure, focusing on enhancing support for current programs and future initiatives while retaining the strong collaborative relationships among colleges. From 2001-03, faculty, staff, and administrators in UCTE met to brainstorm, discuss, and plan a new organization. Taken into consideration were the (1) the changing nature and breadth of programs, including undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral initiatives, and the need for flexibility; (2) relationships among programs based on common goals, interests, and support; and (3) partnerships with K-12, community colleges, higher education, and state/national agencies.

After much deliberation and reflection, together with feedback from external advisory groups, the UCTE reached several decisions:

- Informal program clusters should formally organize, due to an expansion of program offerings, curriculum levels, and formal relationships with on- and off-campus partners (e.g., multiple subject credential blended with the liberal studies major, educational leadership doctorate offered jointly with UCSB).
- Each formal unit should retain the autonomy of the individual program areas but also include a unit leader responsible for general coordination and oversight.
- Governance in terms of leadership roles, policies, and procedures should reflect the UCTE, unit structure, and relations with other colleges.
- UCTE should be renamed to better reflect the changes taking place in terms of programs, internal relationships, and external partnerships.
By Fall 2002, faculty and staff had unanimously approved two new academic units, new leadership roles, and a name change for UCTE. In Winter 2003, these new units were implemented, with faculty developing draft policies for their respective units. Interim RPT policies were approved by the Provost in Fall 2003, with final policies due by Fall 2004.

New Organization

The new organization includes the Division of Teacher Education (TED) and the Department of Graduate Studies in Education (DGSE), each an autonomous unit with responsibility for curriculum, personnel, and other administrative matters. Currently housed in the Dean's Office, the budget is gradually being decentralized to the two units.

Division of Teacher Education

The Division of Teacher Education (TED) houses two teaching credential programs: multiple subject (elementary education) and single subject (secondary education). Multiple subject has two tracks: the traditional post-bac program and new blended program integrating the undergraduate liberal studies major and professional education; each also has a bilingual option. Single subject includes post-bac program options in seven disciplines: agriculture, biological sciences, English, mathematics, physical education, physical science, and social sciences. Both programs meet the required teacher preparation standards established by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) and are working toward standards set by the National Council on the Accreditation of Teacher Education for national accreditation.

Multiple subject and single subject coordinators provide leadership on all program matters. In addition, multiple subject has an advisor for blended students from Liberal Studies and an advisor for the bilingual options from UCTE, while single subject has advisors and content faculty for each credential discipline (e.g., agriculture, English, mathematics) from the Colleges of Agriculture, Liberal Arts, and Science and Mathematics. The UCTE Associate Dean serves as the TED Director, providing division coordination and oversight to the programs and serving as the liaison with national and state accrediting agencies.

Department of Graduate Studies in Education

The Department of Graduate Studies in Education (DGSE) houses advanced credential programs and/or master's degree specializations in five areas: counseling and guidance, curriculum and instruction, educational leadership and administration, literacy and reading, and special education. A joint doctoral program in educational leadership with UC Santa Barbara received final approval in Spring 2003 and began in Fall 2003. Similar to the teaching programs, the advanced credential programs also meet required CCTC standards and are working toward national accreditation. The master's programs have a common core of educational foundation and research courses as well as coursework and fieldwork specific to each specialization.

Five program coordinators provide leadership on all program matters. The newly elected DGSE Chair provides coordination and oversight for the department, including administrative matters and the academic core components, and works with the Associate Dean on accreditation issues impacting the advanced credential programs.
Faculty

In 2003-04, there are 14 tenure-line faculty, 2 full-time lecturers, 1 resident teacher, 4 ferspers, and 3 MPPs. (In addition, two new tenure-line faculty have been hired beginning Fall 2004, one in TED and one in DGSE.) Each quarter, the TED hires about 5-7 part-time lecturers and 10-15 student teaching supervisors, while the DGSE hires 7-10 part-time faculty. Quarterly, UCTE produces about 24 FTEF.

In the TED, there are three categories of faculty: unit faculty (home association in UCTE) and single subject advisors and content educators (home association in department of discipline). For 2003.04, TED includes 10 unit faculty (tenure-line, lecturers, and resident teacher), as well as 22 single subject advisors and content educators from CAGR, CLA, and CSM who are formally recognized as faculty in the Division and who participate in teaching, advising, personnel, and other roles.

In the DGSE, there are 7 tenure line professors and 4 ferspers. Faculty are proposing a model that would formally recognize non-DGSE faculty as part of the Department, similar to the recognition given to single subject advisors and content educators in the TED.

Students

For 2003-04, there are about 650 students enrolled in the UCTE, including majors as well as students enrolled concurrently in other programs (e.g., liberal studies majors and the multiple subject credential, English master’s students and the single subject credential). Of the 500 enrolled in the TED (300 multiple subject, 200 single subject), about 300 will complete their programs this year. Of the 150 enrolled in the DGSE, about 120 will complete their programs this year. Quarterly, UCTE produces about 280 FTES, plus another 25 FTES in other credential courses (e.g., ENGL 424, Teaching English in Secondary Schools).

Budget

For 2003-04, the UCTE budget is about $2.5 million, with a projected $250,000 in one-time miscellaneous income. Grant funding was over $500,000 last year, while advancement yielded over $1 million for scholarships and other program support.

RESOLVED: That the proposal for the Master of Arts in History be approved by the Academic Senate of Cal Poly.

Proposed by: Academic Senate Curriculum Committee
Date: May 4, 2004
Summary Proposal to the Academic Senate of California Polytechnic State University for the Establishment of a Master of Arts in History

Introduction

The Master of Arts in History is designed for 1) current and prospective Social Studies teachers, 2) those who seek graduate training at the M.A. level to prepare for teaching positions at community colleges or before seeking admission to Ph.D. programs in History, and for 3) local residents who want to pursue their love of the discipline and career advancement.

In addition to meeting pressing needs of the State of California and local area residents with respect to teacher education (see Program Need below), the M.A. program in History also fits within the strategic plans of Cal Poly and the College of Liberal Arts. The preface to the report Graduate Education at Cal Poly, which employs Cornerstones, the Cal Poly Strategic Plan, as well as other documents, makes clear that Cal Poly is committed to building up its graduate education programs. The College of Liberal Arts Strategic Plan states that we should "Design, achieve, and sustain excellent productive academic programs which recognize and capitalize upon intellectual and physical resources available to us in a nationally known polytechnic university with a competitive student body." Strategies to achieve such goals include "master's degree programs appropriate to Cal Poly and market demand." The demand for additional training for teachers in the public schools and the community colleges corresponds closely with our program goals.

The program will not require additional resources from the state, Cal Poly, or the College of Liberal Arts.

Program Goals and Objectives

The Master of Arts in History is designed to meet the goals of three constituencies. The first group is the population of teachers at all levels of K-12 education throughout San Luis Obispo and northern Santa Barbara Counties who would like to increase their knowledge of History and advance themselves professionally by obtaining an M.A. in History. The second target group is the population of current Cal Poly students who, following the completion of their Bachelor degree, plan to become teachers. The majority of these students want to teach History and Social Studies at the secondary level and would like to continue at Cal Poly enrolled simultaneously in a History M.A. program and a Teaching Credential program. A smaller number of these students, who plan to teach History at a community college where an M.A. is required, or who hope to continue their graduate studies in a Ph.D. program, want to prepare for their futures by enrolling in a History Masters program at Cal Poly. The third constituency are those many members of the local community who share the current, popular enthusiasm for history and who want to enrich their lives through a disciplined and challenging program of historical study. For some of these local residents who are employed, an advanced degree will also enable them to seek promotions and higher pay.
The following five objectives will equip students with all these different purposes with important historical and intellectual skills: 1) Develop specialized historical competencies and an enhanced awareness of human diversity. 2) Develop critical thinking/problem solving skills. 3) Develop facility in oral and written communication. 4) Develop independent thought and research methods. 5) Foster lifelong learning.

Program Need

National demographic predictions indicate that there will be an increased need for better trained teachers in the public schools and community colleges. Our program, in part, responds to this local and national demand. The CSU produces approximately 60% of our state’s teachers, and as the Chancellor has stated, its campuses bear a major responsibility for meeting that demand. The History Department already takes responsibility for administering the Social Science Waiver and Credential Programs at Cal Poly. After a long-term faculty member who had assumed these duties retired, the department committed one of its faculty lines to the recruitment of his replacement. The History M.A. program, then, will allow us to both train Social Studies teachers in the Credential Program and, simultaneously, produce our share of teachers at all levels who possess real graduate-level experience in and knowledge of historical research and study.

M.A. programs in History are the rule rather than the exception in the California State University system. Of the CSU system's 23 campuses, 15 have History M.A. programs and 8 (including Cal Poly and some of the newest campuses, such as CSU Channel Islands, the California Maritime Academy, and CSU Monterey Bay) do not. The History M.A. adheres closely to the structure and assumptions of other M.A. programs in History already in existence in the CSU. Our program is modeled on the M.A. in History at California Polytechnic State University at Pomona.

The needs of the State of California and geographic necessity provide a firm rationale for the M.A. program at Cal Poly. No institution in San Luis Obispo County, northern Santa Barbara County, or southern Monterey County have an M.A. program in History. There is a terminal History M.A. program at U.C. Santa Barbara, approximately 100 miles south of Cal Poly. One has to travel 185 miles to the north, to San Jose State University, or 140 miles to the east, to Bakersfield, to reach an institution offering a History M.A. program. There is no school, public or private, closer than 100 miles from San Luis Obispo, which has, or anticipates having, such a program.

Many of our History graduates, as well as graduates from the Social Sciences and Political Science departments, enter the teaching profession, and many of them prefer to enroll simultaneously in Teaching Credential and M.A. programs. This cannot be done presently at Cal Poly, so it is quite common for students who would prefer to stay in San Luis Obispo to move back to northern or southern California to enroll in Teaching Credential and M.A. programs at other universities. Establishing an M.A. program here at Cal Poly would ensure that a significant number of graduates would stay here in San Luis Obispo to finish their post-baccalaureate work.
This need has been documented through exit surveys with Cal Poly students. In Winter quarter of 2002, the first survey was conducted in both sections of a required undergraduate seminar for History majors and minors and among all students enrolled in senior project in History. Of the students who were surveyed, 66% expressed a desire to enroll in an M.A. program in History at Cal Poly. A larger survey was conducted in Winter quarter of 2004. This time exit surveys were completed in several sections of two required undergraduate seminars for History majors and minors, among all students enrolled in senior project in History, and by those enrolled in a course which is required for post-baccalaureate students admitted into the Social Science Teaching Credential Program. Of the students who were surveyed, 54% expressed a desire to enroll in an M.A. program in History at Cal Poly.

There is also substantial interest in the proposed History M.A. among those who are already employed as teachers in the local area. There are 260 History and Social Studies teachers in the high schools, junior highs and elementary schools in our target area: San Luis Obispo County and northern Santa Barbara County. During the Winter 2004 quarter, these 260 teachers were surveyed by mail to determine their interest in an M.A. program in History at Cal Poly. Within one month of distributing the survey, 83 teachers had responded. Of those who responded, 48% expressed interest in enrolling in our M.A. program. Some of those who responded were undecided (21%) and some were not interested (31%). It should be noted, however, that many who stated that they were uninterested already have a M.A. degree in History.

Julian C. Crocker, County Superintendent of Schools, enthusiastically supports this proposal for an M.A. in History at Cal Poly. He wrote that this program would "enhance the history and social science education program for our existing teaching staff in the middle and high schools in our county." He also eagerly awaits the program since it will increase further the subject competency of prospective and current teachers in the county's school system.

Benefit to Cal Poly

The new population of History graduate students will offer important benefits to the History Department and to Cal Poly as a whole.

Graduate students enrolled in the M.A. program in History will serve as assistants for faculty who teach large-size sections of lower-division classes. At present, we offer some large-size classes (with maximum enrollment set at 120 students) without the benefit of graduate assistants. Instead of hiring undergraduate assistants, then, faculty will employ graduate assistants, thereby improving the quality of this work. (please note that History M.A. students will not teach Cal Poly undergraduates. The History Department's Personnel Policy Statement requires the Ph.D. for tenure-track faculty members. We require the M.A. degree and all Ph.D. requirements except the dissertation for appointment as a full-time or part-time.

Since most History graduate students will take at least some 400 level History courses as Graduate Electives, their presence in these courses will help to raise the level of discussion and intellectual rigor and maturity of the class. This will be a direct benefit to our undergraduate majors.
History graduate students will also serve in a new tutoring program for students of all colleges and majors taking History General Education courses. This will be a direct benefit to the entire Cal Poly undergraduate population, as well as to the faculty members teaching these classes.

The presence of a graduate program in History will help us to continue to recruit top-level faculty to our department. In several recent searches, it has been very common for candidates to inquire about the possibility of teaching graduate courses in addition to the regular load of General Education courses and History major courses. (Two years ago, for example, our top candidate chose to accept a position at CSU Northridge, which has an M.A. program.)

Curriculum

There are two options for the M.A. Degree in History.

Students may complete the M.A. Comprehensive Exam Option (48 Units), which consists of Graduate Study in History (4 units); 5 Graduate History Seminars (4 units each) chosen from a list of five courses which are each repeatable up to 12 units (20 units total); five Graduate History Electives chosen from an approved list of courses at the 400 and 500 level (Note that courses at the 400 level will include extra work for graduate students, must be taken after the student has been awarded an undergraduate degree, and may not repeat undergraduate courses or their equivalent.) (20 units total); and Supervised Reading for Comprehensive Exams, which is to be taken twice, once in each Field of Study (2 units each for a total of 4 units).

Comprehensive Examinations will consist of two topics chosen from two different Fields of Study. This will assure the student a wide expanse of knowledge. Comprehensive exams may be taken from topics within the five general (geographically defined) Fields of Study: American History, European History, East Asian History, Central and Latin American History, and African History.

Students may also complete the M.A. Thesis Option (49 units), which consists of Graduate Study in History (4 units); 5 Graduate History Seminars (4 units each) chosen from a list of five courses which are each repeatable up to 12 units (20 units total); five Graduate History Electives chosen from an approved list of courses at the 400 and 500 level (Note that courses at the 400 level will include extra work for graduate students, must be taken after the student has been awarded an undergraduate degree, and may not repeat undergraduate courses or their equivalent.) (20 units total); and M.A. Thesis Supervision, which is to be taken over three separate quarters (3 units each for a total of 9 units).

Approval of the thesis will be by a committee, comprised of the thesis advisor, an outside faculty member (chosen by the student in consultation with the thesis advisor), and the Graduate Coordinator.

It will be possible for students pursuing either M.A. option to take up to 8 units of their Graduate History Electives outside of the History Department, with the approval of the Graduate Coordinator. (A student specializing in Latin American History may want to take a 400-level upper-division course in Latin American Literature, for example.)

Admission

Students admitted to the M.A. Program in History will meet the following specific requirements: 1) Possession of an undergraduate degree from an accredited college or university. (Students without an undergraduate degree in History will be required to demonstrate adequate preparation for graduate study in History; as determined by the Graduate Coordinator.) 2) An overall grade point average of 3.0 for the last 90 units of their undergraduate work. 3) Submission of a writing sample, in the form of a Senior Project or upper-division paper.

Applications for admission and requests for further information will be directed to the Admissions Office or the Graduate Coordinator of the M.A. Program in History. All applications must include a writing sample, undergraduate transcripts, and two letters of recommendation.

Resources

All faculty members of the History Department possess the Ph.D. degree and the requisite professional experience in their field of expertise. No new faculty are required for the M.A. program in History. We will appoint a Graduate Coordinator from among our tenured faculty.

No additional space and facilities will be required. Existing space and facilities in the late afternoon and evening at Cal Poly are currently under-utilized. This is precisely when the History graduate classes and many of the History graduate electives will be offered to accommodate the schedules of secondary Social Studies teachers, those Cal Poly students also enrolled in the Social Studies Teaching Credential Program who are observing in the classroom and doing their part-time and full-time student teaching during the day, and those residents of the community who are employed during normal business hours. (It should be noted that the History Department already has a good record of offering 400-level courses during the late afternoon and evening. In addition to scheduling our graduate courses at these times, we will also offer at least one-quarter of our 400-level courses after 3:00 p.m. when the M.A. Program begins.

The Kennedy Library already contains extensive holdings in books, databases, journals and magazines, microform collections, microfiche collections, resources in archives and special collections, and government documents that will support the M.A. program in History.

Book
Granny D: You're Never Too Old to Raise a Little Hell by Doris Haddock and Dennis Burke

Book Description
In February 2000, ninety-year-old Doris "Granny D" Haddock became a national heroine when she completed her 3,200-mile, fourteen-month walk from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C., to bring attention to the issue of campaign finance reform.

Her purpose was to encourage individuals to practice democracy by illustrating that a single person can have an effect on the political process. Told in Doris’s vivid and unforgettable voice, she recalls and celebrates an exuberant life, of love, activism, and adventure. You will find Granny D’s narrative enjoyable and engaging and her story especially compelling in an election year.

Target Population
All new students entering fall 04 and their parents/supporters

Program Design
1. New students and their parents/supporters will be asked to read the book during the summer.
2. During SAP (Summer Advising Program, July) students will receive PREFACE packets
3. As part of fall orientation, WOW’s Academic Day (9/15), students will participate in a 1 hr. small group discussion lead by volunteer faculty/staff/community discussion facilitators.
4. During Parent’s Weekend (10/15) the author will visit Cal Poly for a free campus wide and community public presentation.

Small Group Discussion
The small group discussions will take place on Wednesday, September 15, 2004, Academic Day of WOW. The discussions will be 1 hour and take place first thing in the morning in the established WOW groups. Following the discussions, students will proceed to their respective colleges and academic department meetings.

Author Presentation
Co-sponsored with the Parent Program and "Provocative Perspectives;" Doris Haddock and Dennis Burke together will make two free public presentations.
1. Volunteer discussion facilitators and "Provocative Perspectives" faculty/staff (10/14 am).
2. General campus and the SLO county community. This event will coincide with Parents Weekend (10/15 pm) so that parents may also hear the author speak.

RESOLVED: That the Academic Senate of the California State University (CSU) reaffirm its commitment to upholding and preserving the principles of academic freedom: the right of faculty to teach, conduct research or other scholarship, and publish free of external constraints other than those normally denoted by the scholarly standards of a discipline; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the Academic Senate CSU call upon the campuses to foster the free speech rights embedded in the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and to ensure that guests on any campus have full opportunity to the appropriate exercise of these rights; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the Academic Senate CSU call on the university community to maintain the campuses as open forums for free expression of ideas and diverse views in the framework of scholarly inquiry and professional ethics; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the Academic Senate CSU call on the local campus senates to develop or review campus policies for the protection of freedom of research, expression and teaching both inside the classroom and beyond; and be further

RESOLVED: That the Academic Senate CSU call for review and, if necessary, repeal, of any system or campus policy that would restrict academic freedom in the name of "security" or "a balanced approach" to controversial issues.

RATIONALE: In recent years, in the name of security, some universities have developed policies that place restrictions on academic freedom. There have been attempts to quell discussion of contentious issues under the guise of a need for a "balanced" approach to controversial issues. Academic freedom is the pillar of a university's fundamental mission of discovery and advancement of knowledge and its dissemination to students and the public. Restrictions on freedom to teach, conduct research, express points of view, and publish create obstacles in fulfilling the academic mission of the university. Only when universities protect academic freedom and foster the free exchange of ideas can they effectively fulfill their mission of providing high quality education to the students and to the public.

WHEREAS, The CSU is going through the worst budget crisis in its history; and

WHEREAS, Implementation of the student module of PeopleSoft is an expensive component of the new CMS project; and

WHEREAS, Vice Chancellor Richard West in his letter dated February 6, 2004 has given CSU campuses the option of postponing the implementation of new CMS projects; and

WHEREAS, Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, is the only CSU campus not postponing the implementation of a new CMS project; and

WHEREAS, Cal Poly has not done a thorough and transparent cost analysis of other available products to upgrade its student administrative software; and

WHEREAS, Borrowing millions of dollars to implement PeopleSoft is a major impediment in our future recovery from the present budget crisis; therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That the Academic Senate of Cal Poly state its opposition to implementation of the student administrative module of PeopleSoft in the midst of a major budget crisis; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the Academic Senate of Cal Poly encourage President Baker to halt any plans to borrow money to implement PeopleSoft; and, be it further

RESOLVED: That the Academic Senate of Cal Poly encourage President Baker to postpone the implementation of the student administrative module of PeopleSoft until a thorough and transparent fit-gap analysis of other available products in the market is done.
