NOTES:

One potential case was brought to the attention of the Fairness Board chair during finals week of Winter 2017. The chair met with the student in question, going over the Fairness Board procedures and the documents required to file a formal grievance. The chair also offered the student assistance with putting together the necessary package. The student decided to think about whether or not to move forward and get back to the chair in early Spring 2017.

No other cases are currently pending.
