Hi!

We are International Produce Group (IPG).

We are looking to hire a future sales role at our company in the next few months. We prefer a very hard working, great personality, and aggressive student. If you have any recommendations, we would love to hear! I was hoping you could pass our company information and job position to the AG Business and Business/Sales departments. Please see below:

About this Job

We are looking to expand our sales team and need a motivated individual with a college degree who is looking for an entry-level position with a well-established International Export company. This is a growth-opportunity position in the competitive, fast-paced, and always-changing International Trade Industry. The right candidate will be highly motivated and detail-oriented with good people skills. This position will report directly to our team of sales professionals. Responsibilities will include but are not limited to verbal/written communication with foreign markets, suppliers & transportation agencies, sales order processing, coordinating export documentation, transportation and logistics. This is a position with great growth opportunities.

Candidate must be willing to work at all hours as needed, have good computer skills with a basic knowledge of Microsoft Office (Outlook, Word, Excel).

Agriculture or Sales/Logistics Experience a plus.

About International Produce Group (IPG)

International Produce Group, since 2002, has grown into one of the largest, and most dynamic Exporters of Fresh Produce World Wide. With products ranging from fresh/frozen fruits, to vegetables, and now dairy/poultry, IPG is able to successfully and efficiently serve long lasting customers and businesses in the wholesale, retail, food service, and ecommerce sectors overseas. We are always looking to develop new overseas markets, and recently we have opened an operation in CHILE/PERU to source produce items to our existing customers.

Best Regards,
Dalton Dovolis
