

GREAT BUILDINGS

start at the structure

Dekker/Perich/Sabatini is looking for creative and inquisitive structural and architectural engineers to contribute their unique perspectives and talents to our team. Find out how you can collaborate, learn, and grow with our multidisciplinary team of architects, interior designers, structural engineers, planners, and landscape architects. Working on such a diverse set of building types, which cover every sector of the market, allows each member of our department to succeed and grow. Today it might be a multi-story steel-framed hospital on a site with high seismicity. Next could be a CMU classroom building which will revive the campus of a high school, or the structural renovation of an historic building which is having problems due to unstable in-situ soils. Whatever the project, a new challenge awaits each and every day.

- > Do projects such as these sound interesting to you?
- > Are you a collaborative type who thrives in a multi-disciplinary A/E office setting?
- > Do you love working in a fun environment while shaping the buildings which surround you?
- > When you walk into a building with exposed structure, do you notice?
- > Do you want to grow both professionally and personally?

If so, we would love to hear from you at:

Opportunities to Grow

YOUR SUCCESS IS LIMITLESS

Education + Training

In addition to working on rewarding design projects that contribute to quality of life in our communities, you can dive into a variety of topics you care about. Join our sustainability and wellness initiative, our specifications group, D.I.Y.ers, or one of our other internal groups to work and learn alongside colleagues that share your interests. We also offer lunch-and-learns and in-house presentations so you can easily earn continuing education credits. We get to find out about the latest products, technologies, and design trends. Finally, we provide study guides and resources for interns seeking licensure and for individuals earning professional credentials. Our commitment to continued learning and discovery helps us think about the big picture and keeps us moving in new and exciting directions.

Work / Life Balance

Flexibility + Fun

- > Flexible Schedules. At D/P/S we offer flexible work schedules and paid time off so you can care for yourself, your family, and your personal commitments. Our employees work hard both in and out of the office, so we make every effort to support their undertakings. With open communication and a commitment to our employees' well-being, we strive for a meaningful work/ life balance.
- > Fun and Recreation. Everyone needs rest, respect, recreation, and camaraderie. Throughout the year, our party planners help us all remember to take a break and have some fun. We have regular events for employees, friends, and families. Sometimes it's a pancake breakfast. Sometimes it's going to a ball game or throwing a Halloween party. Additionally, we have a wellness program that includes recreational sports, fitness challenges, cooking classes, and a slew of other great offerings.

Community Engagement

THE WORK WE'RE MOST PROUD OF

We're grateful to work with non-profit organizations and other community groups dedicated to tackling big issues. As a firm and as individuals, D/P/S volunteers and donates to support hundreds of causes locally and globally. Our recurring efforts focus on helping people who are facing hunger and poverty, contributing to the advancement of cancer research, and creating safe and welcoming environments for kids.
