

Company: Redwood Electric Group
Location: 2775 Northwestern Parkway Santa Clara, CA 95051
Position: Electrical Designer

Redwood Electric Group is looking for an Electrical Designer at our Santa Clara office. The electrical designer shall be capable of developing power and lighting sheets, performing standard calculations, and understanding project requirements.

Job responsibilities:

- Review project criteria and requirements
- Coordination and collaboration with other disciplines and team members.
- Electrical systems design for building projects, including power systems, lighting.
- Design and calculations for power systems, lighting and associated controls.
- Prepare Title 24 compliance forms.
- Preparing construction documents.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor Degree in Architectural/Electrical Engineering.
- Working experience with California codes and standards preferred.
- FE/PE preferred.
- Proficient use of Autodesk Revit and CAD.
- Excellent planning and organization skills required for our fast-paced environment.

Redwood Electric Group has provided electrical construction and design services since 1974. We have an extensive in-house engineering department which has performed services for many of the most successful architects, developers and corporations on the West Coast. Our business continues to reflect strong growth through innovation and our team's commitment to exceed customer expectations. We operate from offices located in Santa Clara, San Francisco, Vacaville and Sacramento and will perform work throughout the West Coast.

Please apply by sending resume to:

Jesus Alvarez

jalvarez@redwoodeg.com