Applications are now being accepted!

This is a great opportunity for college students, recent college graduates, or others interested in gaining valuable supervisory experience at a food manufacturing facility. Selected candidates will be assigned to one of a variety of departments to help supervise the upcoming Fresh Pack Season.

What you’ll gain from working here:

- Experience working for one of the top fruit and vegetable companies in the world
- Valuable hands-on involvement at the largest Del Monte fruit plant in the country
- Gain leadership experience managing a team of fellow employees
- Increased opportunities for full-time positions
- Networking connections with a variety of industry professionals

Candidates must be able or willing to:

- Work variable shifts
- Perform accurate and regular daily evaluations on processes and employee performance
- Conduct periodic quality control and damage prevention audits
- Provide production analysis with detailed information
- Communicate effectively verbally and in writing
- Become proficient with a computer and a variety of software programs

To Apply: Visit Del Monte Foods’ website at: delmontefoods.com/careers

Del Monte Foods, Inc. is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, religion, gender, national origin, sexual orientation, age, marital status, medical condition, disability, protected veteran status, or any other legally protected status.