Develop an appropriate academic plan for the next two terms. This plan should identify which courses will be taking during these next two terms and the anticipated grades earned in each of these courses, as well as the anticipated GPA for each term.

You will need to compute for each term how you are going to raise your GPA to remove yourself from Academic Probation.

List anticipated courses, realistic projected grades and GPA consequences for the next two terms.

Use the GPA Calculator on your Cal Poly Portal to calculate your Current and Cal Poly Cumulative GPA's.
