DEPARTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

Viticulture courses teach all aspects of quality wine grape production, including site evaluation and vineyard development, pest management, sustainability and state-of-the-art cultural practices. Enology, the science of wine and winemaking, gives students a strong foundation in chemistry and microbiology. Enology students monitor and assess wines and winemaking choices using sensory, chemical and microbiological analyses. Classes in wine business focus on operations, management and marketing strategies. The department’s 14-acre vineyard and pilot winery give students the hands-on experience that industry has come to expect from Cal Poly’s career-ready graduates — graduates prepared to make their mark in the multi-dimensional wine industry anywhere in the world. Internships and participation in undergraduate research programs, clubs and enterprise projects expand students’ Learn by Doing experiences and further prepare them to make a difference in their chosen field from day one.

Cal Poly’s location in the heart of the Central Coast wine region assures students have access to some of the best growing conditions and internship opportunities in the industry. Our students gain valuable vineyard and winery experience locally in Paso Robles, San Luis Obispo, Santa Maria and Arroyo Grande; up and down the state of California; throughout the U.S.; and abroad.

WINE PRODUCTION AND SALES

The department offers three wine labels: student wines, made on-site by students; commercial wine, sold both online and in select stores; and research wine, made by students during their senior projects. Cal Poly’s commercial wine is sold by a team of students working under faculty supervision. Cal Poly’s commercial winery was bonded in 2017, increasing Learn by Doing student opportunities.
