

Employment

State Employment Opportunities

Candidates are asked to visit <https://www.calpolyjobs.org> to complete an application. For help, call ext. 6-2844.

#105189 — Carpenter,
Administration and Finance
— Facilities — Carpenter Shop.
$5,207-$6,654 per month.
(Anticipated hiring range: $5,207-$5,700 per month.) Open until filled.

#105183 — Curriculum Systems Analyst (Administrative Analyst/Specialist — Exempt I),
$3,897-$6,846 per month.
(Anticipated hiring range: $4,583-$5,417 per month.) Open until filled.

#105185 — Research Analyst (Research Technician II),
Academic Affairs — Institutional Research. $3,721-$6,537 per month.
(Anticipated hiring range: $5,000-$5,833 per month.) Open until filled.

Faculty Employment Opportunities

Candidates are asked to visit www.calpolyjobs.org to complete an application for any of the positions shown below. The complete listing of openings is posted online. For assistance, call ext. 6-2844.

#105173 — Full-Time Temporary Lecturer of Human Resource,
Orfalea College of Business. Open until filled.

#105161 — Full-Time Temporary Lecturer — Physics, College of Science and Mathematics. Open until filled.

#105172 — Full-Time Temporary Lecturer — Information Systems,
Orfalea College of Business. Open until filled.

Buy Tickets Now for Annual Service Awards Luncheon on March 12

Tickets for the Annual Service Awards Luncheon will be available for $15 each starting Feb. 13. State, Corporation and ASI employees with milestone service anniversaries in 2018 will be honored at the Annual Service Awards Luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 12, in the Chumash Auditorium. In accordance with Cal Poly's sustainable practices, printed flyers will not be distributed. Visit <https://serviceawards.calpoly.edu/> for the flyer with a complete listing of awardees. Tickets can be purchased online and will be sent via email or are available to pick up at will call at the Cal Poly Ticket Office (Performing Arts Center) from noon to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. All award recipients have received an email with a link to RSVP to the event. Awardees are required to RSVP to participate in the award ceremony. The Annual Service Awards Committee is compiling photos for a slide show presentation at the luncheon. Send photos of the awardees to serviceawards@calpoly.edu by Friday, Feb. 22. There is limited seating; purchase a ticket early to ensure your attendance at this special event. Buy tickets at tickets.calpoly.edu/online/article/sa2019.

Cal Poly Named 'Military Friendly' Campus for 2019-20

Cal Poly has been named a Military Friendly® School for 2019-20 by VIQORY, a veteran-owned digital media, advertising technology and data utilization company. Cal Poly is one of seven large public universities in California to receive the designation for efforts in serving military veterans and veteran-dependent students. The university opened its Veterans Success Center in 2015 and serves approximately 550 students annually. "This designation is particularly meaningful to me because it validates the intentional hard work that happens within our center and throughout campus to assist veterans and military families," said Kari Leslie, Cal Poly Veterans Success Center coordinator. "Whether they are a veteran returning to civilian life, currently serving, or a member of a military family, Cal Poly is here to support them from day one." Qualifying campuses earn the Military Friendly designation based on several factors, including graduation rates, first- and second-year retention rates, and job placement rates for veterans and veteran-dependent students. All told, the company utilizes information collected from public data sources and by its proprietary survey to determine designations. A complete list of Military Friendly Schools will be published in the May issue of G.I. Jobs magazine. For more information about Cal Poly's Veterans Success Center, visit <https://veteransuccess.calpoly.edu>.

Compliance Training Now Available in the Cal Poly Learning Hub

Required compliance and safety training is now available through the Cal Poly Learning Hub, powered by SumTotal. This includes "Sexual Harassment Prevention," "Defensive Driving," and the "Injury and Illness Prevention Program," among others. New employees or employees with overdue assignments in the previous system, Skillsoft, will begin receiving email notifications of assigned training. Going forward, all assignments and reassignments will come from the Cal Poly Learning Hub via learninghub@calpoly.edu. Visit the Cal Poly Learning Hub directly by using the link now available in the My Apps section of the Cal Poly Portal. Use the Cal Poly Learning training guides and videos on the learnandgrow.calpoly.edu website to assist in exploring the Cal Poly Learning Hub. If you experience an issue or have questions, email learninghub@calpoly.edu.

Employment

ASI Employment Opportunities

Candidates are asked to visit <http://www.asi.calpoly.edu/jobs> to complete an ASI application and apply for open positions. For more information, visit the ASI Business Office in UU 212 or call ext. 6-5800.

Building Service Worker —

(Recreational Sports), $15.00/hour with excellent benefits. Position open until filled.

Building Service Worker — (University Union), $15.00/hour with excellent benefits. Position open until filled.

Teacher — (Children's Center), $15.44/hour with excellent benefits. Position open until filled.

Women and People of Color in STEM Panel and Discussion Session Set for Feb. 14

The Cal Poly Inclusivity Group will present a Women and People of Color in a STEM panel and discussion session from 3:10 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 14, in UU 220. The panelists will discuss current issues facing women and people of color in STEM fields followed by small group discussions and time for audience questions. Panelists include physics Professor Louise Edwards, computer science Professor Foaad Khosmood, College of Science and Mathematics Associate Dean Camille O'Bryant, industrial and manufacturing engineering Professor Lizabeth Schlemer, and biology Professor Francis Villablanca.

CLA Speaks: Author of '#BlackLivesMatter to Black Liberation' to Speak Feb. 21

Keeanga-Yamahatta Taylor, Ph.D., a widely sought public speaker and writer specializing in the subjects of black politics, social movements and racial inequality in the United States, will give a talk as part of CLA Speaks on Thursday, Feb. 21, at 6 p.m. in Miossi Hall in the Performing Arts Center. In her most recent book, "From #BlackLivesMatter to Black Liberation," she surveys the historical and contemporary ravages of racism and the persistence of structural inequality. In 2016, Taylor was named one of the 100 most influential African Americans in the United States. The talk is free and open to the public. Learn more at <https://cla.calpoly.edu/claspeaks>.

Pre-Register for Change the Status Quo Social Justice Conference Feb. 22-23

The Center for Service in Action is hosting the 17th annual Change the Status Quo (CSQ) Social Justice Conference on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 22-23. The conference aims to empower students to use the Learn by Doing spirit to challenge social norms, ask critical questions, demand solutions and make lasting social change. This year's theme is Redefining Boldness, and includes a White Privilege Symposium. Faculty, staff, students, alumni and community members are invited to Preview Night on Friday evening for a moderated panel discussion and question-and-answer session on "Leadership, Law Enforcement and Social Justice." The panel will be comprised of student activist leaders; Keith Humphrey, vice president of Student Affairs; Kathleen McMahon, dean of students; University Police Chief George Hughes; and San Luis Obispo Police Chief Deanna Cantrell. The opening keynote speaker on Saturday is Kristin Deal, Ph.D., from the University of Denver, who is a leading scholar on white privilege, with a special emphasis on allyship. Preregistration for the all-day conference on Saturday is now live at serviceinaction.calpoly.edu/CSQ. Presale conference fees are $10 for students and $25 for faculty, staff and community members. Those interested in underwriting the cost of students to attend should email the Center for Service in Action at serviceinaction@calpoly.edu.

In Memoriam

Former Cal Poly professor Howard Steinberg passed away Nov. 3, 2018. He was 89. Steinberg was born and raised in New York City and graduated from City College in Engineering. After his career in engineering and aerospace development, he earned his master's and doctoral degrees in applied mathematics in 1969 from the Courant Institute of New York University. He was hired as an associate professor of math at Cal Poly in 1970. He taught here until his retirement in 1991. While at Cal Poly, Steinberg oversaw the Graduate Math Program. He loved teaching and still had contact with many students who had completed advanced degrees in math. Upon retirement, he founded Howard Steinberg Photography. He was a member of the San Luis Obispo Museum of Art, Sierra Club and the Land Conservancy of San Luis Obispo County. His family was his priority. Steinberg is survived by his wife of 45 years, "Biz" Steinberg, three children and their spouses and five grandchildren. Steinberg's Celebration of Life was held at the Santa Margarita Ranch Barn on Dec. 9, 2018. For more information, read the full obituary at <https://www.legacy.com/obituaries/sanluisobispo/obituary.aspx?n=howard-steinberg&pid=190770537>.