In Memoriam

Natural Resources Management and Environmental Sciences Department Head Greg Brown died Jan. 2 surrounded by his wife and family after battling health issues the past few years. Brown joined the Natural Resources Management and Environmental Sciences Department in 2016, after serving in academic leadership positions at the University of Queensland, Central Washington University, University of South Australia, Alaska Pacific University, and Green Mountain College in Vermont. He was named one of the world's most impactful scientific researchers by Clarivate Analytics. Brown was the first Cal Poly professor to be named to the list and the only professor from the CSU system to be included. "Greg made a tremendous impact during his time here — he was a deep thinker and brought a fresh and unique perspective to the department and college as a whole," Dean Andy Thulin said. A celebration of life was hosted by the college on Jan. 14.
