

Employment

State Employment Opportunities

For an official vacancies list of staff and management vacancies, visit www.calpolyjobs.org. To apply, go online and complete the application form. For assistance, call Human Resources at ext. 6-2236.

#104878 — Network Systems Specialist (Equipment System Specialist — Career), Information Technology Services — Enterprise Network Services. $3,388 to $6,357 per month. (Anticipated hiring range: $4,000 to $5,400 per month.) Open until filled.

#104893 — Custodian (Custodian), University Housing — Custodial Operations. $2,600 to $3,955 per month. (Anticipated hiring range: $2,600 to $2,700 per month.) Close date: May 16, 2018.

#104891 — Social Justice and MultiCultural Programs Coordinator, Cross Cultural Centers (Student Services Professional II), Dean of Students. $4,057 to $5,769 per month. (Anticipated hiring range: $4,057 to $4,200 per month.) Open until filled.

#104892 — Communication Specialist (Public Affairs/Communication Specialist II), Office of the Registrar. $3,515 to $5,993 per month. (Anticipated hiring range: $3,833 to $4,700 per month.) Open until filled.

#104898 — Prevention Specialist (Health Educator), Campus Health and Wellbeing — Health Education. $4,060 to $7,386 per month. (Anticipated hiring range: $4,656 to $5,986 per month.) Open until filled.

#104897 — Health Communications Specialist (Health Educator), Campus Health and Wellbeing — Health Education. $4,060 to $7,386 per month. (Anticipated hiring range: $4,656 to $5,986 per month.) Open until filled.

Campus Invited to Celebrate President's Diversity Awards Nominees and Recipients May 10

Each year Cal Poly celebrates the great diversity initiatives on campus through the President's Diversity Awards. Students, faculty and staff are invited to celebrate the nominees and recipients of this year's awards from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday, May 10, in the Performing Arts Center Rossi Grand Lobby and feature closing remarks from a distinguished featured guest. Light refreshments will be provided.

Events Planned Throughout May for Inclusive Excellence Month

May at Cal Poly is Inclusive Excellence Month, hosted by the Office of University Diversity and Inclusion to raise campus awareness of diversity and inclusion. Programs, workshops and panel discussions will be held throughout the month. Events planned for the next week include:

- "Science and Fake News: Distinguishing Actual Science from 'Alternative Facts,' and the Influence on Public Policy" featuring Ben Ruttenberg from the Biological Sciences Department, from 11 a.m. to noon Thursday, May 10, in the Erhart Agriculture Building (No. 10), Room 220.
- "Dolores Huerta: Change Maker and Civil Rights Leader," featuring a talk by Huerta from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 10, in Chumash Auditorium.
- "A Panel of Students on the Autism Spectrum," from 3 to 4 p.m. Friday, May 11, in the Student Services Building (No. 124), Room 117.
- "Women's Network Meeting" from noon to 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 16, in UU 220.
- "Drag Show," from 8 to 10 p.m. Friday, May 18, in Chumash Auditorium.

See the full list of events at www.facebook.com/DiversityCalPolySLO/.

Many Employees Eligible for CSU Educational Fee Waiver Program

The fee waiver program provides eligible faculty, staff and management employees the opportunity to attend classes at CSU campuses at greatly reduced rates. This benefit may also be transferred to eligible dependents. For information regarding eligibility, guidelines, procedures, fees and deadlines, visit <https://afd.calpoly.edu/hr/employee-resources/fee-waiver/>. For more information, contact Terizza Miller at feewaiverslo@calpoly.edu.

Registration Open for Seventh Annual Mustang Mile

Experience a revamped version of the classic Cal Poly tradition with this year's seventh annual Mustang Mile: Obstacle Course from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Thursday, May 17, at the new Doerr Family Field and Miller and Capriotti Athletics Facility. Grab a team of five to compete in 12 different activities including a sandbag carry, potato sack race, trivia and inflatable obstacles. Mustang Mile is held each year in honor of Carson Starkey. Presented by ASI Intramural Sports in collaboration with Aware Awake Alive, Mustang Mile seeks to provide health and wellness resources that will educate students on the signs of alcohol poisoning and the dangers of binge drinking. All participants are invited to a free barbecue hosted by the Fraternity and Sorority Life office from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Recreation Center MAC plaza. Prizes will be awarded to winners of different categories, including best costumes and quickest completion time. Only one team member is required to register. The registrant must be a Recreation Center member, but non-members may participate. Visit <https://access.asi.calpoly.edu/> to register (select "Programs"). The cost is $50 per team. For more information, contact ASI Recreational Sports Coordinator Sean Pellerin at ext. 6-7501 or spelleri@calpoly.edu.

Employment

Corporation Employment Opportunities

Cal Poly Corporation is a separate entity operating in concert with the university to provide a diverse range of services and resources to students, faculty and staff. To view job postings or apply, visit <https://www.calpolycorporationjobs.org/>. For assistance, contact Human Resources at ext. 6-1121.

Community Interpreter,

Kinesiology, $18.72-$28.08 per hour.

Data Manager, Kinesiology, $59,716-$89,585 per year.

Marketing Design Coordinator, Marketing and Communication, $44,907-$67,371 per year.

ASI Employment Opportunities

Candidates are asked to visit <http://www.asi.calpoly.edu/> to complete an ASI application for open positions. For more information, visit the ASI Business Office in UU 212 or call ext. 6-5800.

Coordinator — Human Resources. $61,036.00 annually with excellent benefits. Position open until filled.

Cal Poly Wellness Month to Feature Wellness Fairs, Activities

Campus Health and Wellbeing is hosting the second annual Cal Poly Wellness Month. The 31 Days of Wellness happens in May during Mental Health Awareness Month. Join us for Wellness Fairs, Learn @ Lunches, fun activities and events. Join the fun by downloading the Cal Poly Now App and using the “Be Well at Cal Poly” guide to register and see all the events. Visit <https://mycpwell.com/calpolywellnessmonth/> to learn more.

Retirements

James Meagher, interim dean for the College of Engineering, will retire July 1 after 30 years of service. Meagher joined the Mechanical Engineering Department in 1988 as an assistant professor. He was awarded tenure and promotion to full professor in 1994. His areas of scholarship include rotor dynamics and modeling of high-speed rotating machinery. For three years before being named interim dean in February 2017, Meagher served as department chair. In addition to his teaching and research activities, Meagher served as faculty advisor to the Cal Poly chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for 25 years. During his career at Cal Poly, Meagher helped establish the Donald E. Bently Center for Engineering Innovation, a research center in the Mechanical Engineering Department; the Bently Computational Facility; and the Solar Turbines/Bently Nevada Vibrations and Rotor Dynamics Laboratory. A reception will be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Thursday, May 24, in the Advanced Technology Laboratories lobby (No. 7).

Nanine VanDraanen, associate dean of faculty affairs in the College of Agriculture, Food and Environmental Sciences, will retire May 30 after 22 years at Cal Poly. She joined Cal Poly as an assistant professor in 1996, teaching chemistry in the College of Science and Mathematics. Six years later she received the Distinguished Teaching Award. She developed new approaches to organic chemistry in her teaching, and championed improvements to the organic chemistry curriculum. VanDraanen served as the chair of the Chemistry and Biochemistry Department from 2012-15, when she originally planned to retire. She postponed her retirement to serve as the associate dean of faculty affairs in the College of Agriculture, Food and Environmental Sciences from 2015 to 2018. An extensive world traveler and adventurer, VanDraanen plans to continue to travel extensively, for longer periods of time. Join us in celebrating her career from 4 to 6 p.m. Wednesday, May 30, in the PAC lobby. Wine, beer and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

Retirements

Todor D. Todorov came to Cal Poly in 1990 as a mathematics lecturer and later became a full professor. Todorov earned his doctorate in mathematical (theoretical) physics from the University of Sofia, Bulgaria, in 1982. He emigrated to the U.S. in 1988 as a political immigrant from then-communist Bulgaria and has been a U.S. citizen since 1994. His favorite course to teach is Math 248: Methods of Proof. Most of Todorov's research is on the application of non-standard analysis (modern theory of infinitesimals) to the Colombeau theory of generalized functions. After retiring, Todorov plans to work on a monograph tentatively titled “An Axiomatic Approach to the Colombeau Theory of Generalized Functions” and enjoy life in California and Europe. A retirement reception for Todorov will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday, May 17, in the Baker Center (No. 180), Room 537.

Goro Kato began his Cal Poly career in 1981 as an assistant professor of mathematics. Born in Kariya, Japan, he came to the U.S. as a graduate student on a Rotary International Foundation Fellowship. He earned his doctorate at the University of Rochester in New York. Kato's professional accomplishments include 40 published papers, six books and 75 international talks and seminars, including the European Science Foundation Supported Advanced Lecture Series. He has been invited to the Institute for Advanced Study — one of the world's leading centers for basic research, located in Princeton, New Jersey — seven times. His areas of study are p-adic cohomology and its zeta invariants, temporal topos (theoretical physics), the theory of D-modules, and cohomological algebra. A retirement reception for Kato will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday, May 17, in the Baker Center (No. 180), Room 537.