Dean Damon Fleming Talks Intentional Risk and the Future of the Orfalea College of Business

Dean Damon Fleming joined the Orfalea College of Business in August, after serving as dean at the University of Memphis' Fogelman College of Business and Economics. Before that, he spent nearly 13 years on the faculty of the Fowler College of Business at San Diego State University, where he earned his bachelor's and master's degrees.

"There're two big things about Cal Poly that drew me in. The first is that I'm a product of the CSU system and my real purpose as an educator and as a dean is to make contributions back to the system that helped me get to where I am now. The second is Cal Poly's amazing ethos — its commitment to Learn by Doing. It's a philosophy that absolutely represents the future of business education." #### Free Mustang Shuttle Available for Trips Around Campus

Transportation and Parking Services has partnered with SLO Safe Ride to launch Mustang Shuttle, a free convenience shuttle open to students and employees. Mustang Shuttle runs seven days a week beginning at 7 p.m. with the last pickup leaving Kennedy Library at 11:40 p.m. The loop across campus will be covered by two shuttles running 10 minutes apart, providing service roughly every 10 minutes. To encourage riders to wait for the shuttle in a more populated area, two of the stop locations will be drop-off only.

Mustang Shuttle Stops include:

- Kennedy Library (pickup and drop-off).
- Poly Canyon Village: two stops; one at Foxen (drop-off only), the second at Aliso (pickup and drop-off).
- Cerro Vista: two stops; the first at San Luis (pickup and drop-off), the second at Islay (drop-off only).
- University Union (pickup and drop-off).
- Performing Arts Center (pickup and drop-off).

To ensure that every Mustang can use the service, one of the shuttles is accessible to those with disabilities. Riders must show Cal Poly ID when boarding. For more information, visit <https://afd.calpoly.edu/parking/safetyprograms/>.

Join Volleyball for Faculty/Staff Appreciation Night on Nov. 12

In appreciation for what faculty and staff members do for the university, Cal Poly Athletics is offering four free general admission tickets to the Cal Poly volleyball match on Friday, Nov. 12. The Mustangs will host UC Davis, and the match is set for 7 p.m. in Mott Athletics Center. Faculty and staff can claim their free tickets by showing their Cal Poly ID at the Cal Poly Ticket Office or at the Mott Athletics Center box office on game day. For more information, visit www.gopoly.com.

Cal Poly Foundation Board Meeting to be Held Nov. 6

The Cal Poly Foundation board of directors meeting will be held virtually beginning at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 6. For more information contact the Cal Poly Foundation office at ext. 6-7147 or calpolyfoundation@calpoly.edu.

COVID-19 and Flu Vaccine Available on Campus in November

Rite Aid returns to campus in November to offer the Moderna and Pfizer COVID-19 vaccines, including booster shots, and the flu vaccine in the Cal Poly Recreation Center Main Gym lobby. The clinic will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nov. 5, 8, 9 and 12; and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 15 and 19. Walk-ins are accepted, though appointments are strongly encouraged. Make an appointment through the COVID-19 Vaccine page. If codes are not yet posted for the date you wish to receive a vaccine, then walk in and let staff know which vaccine you want. The codes will be posted as soon as they are available, so continue to check back. In addition, these clinics are open to family members of employees. With the approval of the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine for children ages 5 to 11 years old anticipated toward the end of the week, Rite Aid would be able to offer doses to that age group (CDC approval is not expected before Nov. 4). Check <https://coronavirus.calpoly.edu/covid-19-vaccine> for updated information on vaccine and booster eligibility, what to bring to an appointment and more.

Share Input on Cal Poly Branded Styles

Cal Poly's trademark licensing team is seeking feedback about university-branded sweatshirts, water bottles and more! The team wants to better understand campus shopping habits and preferences to help inform future design, style and product decisions. As a thank you for completing this survey, participants will be entered into a drawing for one of eight $25 Cal Poly university store gift cards. Participants' identities will only be used for entry into the drawing. The survey will be open through Tuesday, Nov. 30, at <https://surveys.propellerinsights.com/s3/a032921-x1>.

Sign Up for Holiday Family Portraits

The Agricultural Education and Communication Department's Brock Center will again offer holiday family portraits at Cuesta Park during two weekends in November. Sessions will be held Nov. 6-7 and Nov. 13-14. The cost is $100 for a 45-minute session, and clients will receive 20-25 edited digital photos on a thumb drive taken by the student Brock Associates team. Reserve your session: <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/70a0e44a4ad22aaf49-brock2>. Cash or check payment is due at the beginning of the session. Questions? Email Olivia Jarrett at ojarrett@calpoly.edu.

Holiday Cheese Boxes Available

Students at the Cal Poly Creamery are ready for the 2021 holiday season. Find something special for everyone on your list. Gift box sales kick off in November with tempting, new options, including traditional favorites and delicious new cheeses. Three shipping options, as well as local pick-up dates, will be available. Shipping is offered within the U.S. and gift certificates are available online for direct email delivery. Order by Nov. 9 for Thanksgiving delivery and by Dec. 7 to receive an order by Dec. 25. Stay tuned on Facebook and Instagram at @calpolycreameryslo for updates and visit Cal Poly Creamery at <https://calpolycreamery.com/>.
