Diversity and Inclusion Collective Impact Forum To Be Held Nov. 2

The campus community is invited to a forum discussing the university's collective impact efforts from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 2, in the Performing Arts Center Pavilion. The collective impact approach allows multiple campus groups to rally around a common agenda and shared measurements for diversity and inclusion at Cal Poly with the help of the Office of University Diversity and Inclusion's centralized infrastructure. At the forum, OUDI leaders will discuss specific recommendations made by strategy groups in the spring, which focused on curriculum, campus climate and the recruitment and retention of faculty and students. Attendees can expect to learn about next steps for collective impact work and find opportunities to participate in a variety of ongoing strategy groups. The event will recognize and celebrate the hard work to advance collective impact efforts in the past year. Faculty, staff and students are welcome to attend, enjoy light refreshments and connect with others. For more information on OUDI's collective impact work, visit <https://diversity.calpoly.edu/collective-impact>.

College of Engineering to Host Undergraduate Research Program Symposium on Nov. 2

The College of Engineering will host the first Summer Undergraduate Research Program Symposium from 4-6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 2, in the lobby of the Engineering IV Building (No. 192). This event will highlight the incredible research done by 69 students who worked side by side with 33 faculty members. The results will be showcased in a series of display posters at the event. Students also will be on hand to share their experiences with attendees.

First Year Success Program Seeks Coaches; Training Session set for Dec. 10

The Mustang Success Center is seeking coaches for the First Year Success Program, an academic workshop for first-year students on academic probation for the first time. Volunteers need to attend a training session from 10 a.m. to noon Monday, Dec. 10. Commitments for the program include leading a breakout session of four to six students during one of the upcoming workshops in January, holding a follow-up meeting with each student in the group and serving as a resource throughout the winter quarter if a student in the group any help or guidance. Three two-hour workshops for affected students will be held at 10 a.m., noon and 2 p.m. Friday, Jan. 11. Visit <https://success.calpoly.edu/become-academic-coach> to learn more.

Nominations for Distinguished Teaching Award Continue Through Nov. 28

The nomination period for the Distinguished Teaching Award continues through Wednesday, Nov. 28. The award recognizes faculty who demonstrate excellence in teaching and inspire their students. The award is especially significant since only students and alumni — those who have been touched by the faculty — are eligible to submit nominations. The rigorous evaluation process is conducted by peer faculty members and is based on reviews of written documentation and extensive in-class visitations. Any student or alumnus may submit one or more nominations at <https://academicsenate.calpoly.edu/content/dta>.

Nominations Due Oct. 31 for Distinguished Scholarship Award

The Distinguished Scholarship Award recognizes the scholarship, research and creative activity of both junior and senior faculty members across all disciplines at Cal Poly. Faculty are encouraged to nominate their fellow faculty members for this award as well as notify their students about it. See the Distinguished Scholarship Award website for more information at <http://academicsenate.calpoly.edu/content/dsa>. Nominations are due by Wednesday, Oct. 31. For more information, contact the Academic Senate Office at ext. 6-1258, or academic-senate@calpoly.edu.

Faculty/Staff Invited to Disability Faculty Staff Association Working Social on Nov. 8

The new Disability Faculty Staff Association will host a working social from 1-2 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, in UU 219. Faculty and staff are invited to meet colleagues with disabilities and allies, and provide input on the group's future programming, goals and events. Village Market to Host Oct. 29 Grand Opening for Students, Faculty and Staff

Campus Dining will host a grand opening of Village Market at 4 p.m. Monday, Oct. 29. The celebration is open to the campus community and will include a ribbon cutting, food tasting and prize giveaways. The newly expanded market, in Poly Canyon Village across from its previous location, features an Einstein's Bros. Bagels kiosk, Cal Poly products and produce, and nine new local vendors, including Paso Almonds and Central Coast Creamery. "I'm really excited about all the locally sourced nuts, cheeses and other tasty snacks we'll be seeing in the store," said Melissa Burns, Village Market unit manager. The market has a redesigned interior that includes a bulk cereal and snack section, a wall of beverages, and a peanut and almond butter grinder. Einstein's Bros. Bagels has a full menu and will serve Caribou Coffee. The Village Market is one of 28 Campus Dining venues offering local and organic products, quick grab-and-go bites, and fresh grocery items. Hours are 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. weekends.
