Cal Poly to Implement Out-Of-State Fee to Improve Access for Low-Income and First-Generation California Students

Cal Poly will implement a new fee aimed at increasing access to academically qualified low-income and first-generation undergraduate students in California.

The funds will improve the quality of the university's Learn by Doing education by creating greater access to Cal Poly for a broader range of qualified prospective students, resulting in a more diverse and intercultural on-campus experience for all students. The Cal Poly Opportunity Fee will be assessed on all newly enrolled out-of-state undergraduate students starting in fall 2019 and will be phased in over four years. All current students will be exempt from the fee. The new fee will result in the expansion of the Cal Poly Scholars program and provide financial assistance for high-achieving California students who meet Cal Poly's rigorous academic admission requirements but can't afford to attend the university. Visit https://calpolynews.calpoly.edu/news\_releases/2018/september/opportunityfee to learn more.

Help Out-of-State Students Find a Home Away from Home

Faculty and staff are invited to become a local sponsor to an out-of-state or international student this year through the Local Connections program. Local Connections aims to connect out-of-state students with members of the San Luis Obispo community for occasional meals, activities and/or general support. Sponsors help foster a sense of community for these students in their new home away from home. This unique program offers students the chance to find and form a lasting support system during their Cal Poly journey and provides the opportunity to meet, connect and build friendships with other out-of-state students. Local residents who participate in the program get the opportunity to connect with students and become a valued resource during their transition to SLO and time at Cal Poly.
