Careers Combatting the Climate Crisis

Tuesday, November 16th, 2021 | 11:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

From massive wildfires and superstorms to rising seas and food and water insecurity, we now face a multitude of threats related to the climate crisis. As we confront one of the greatest collective challenges of our time, there are a multitude of career paths taking action to turn the tide of climate change, and many more careers to come that have yet to be created.

Panelists Include:

Ben Christensen | Founder/CEO of Cambium Carbon

Katherine Favor | Sustainable Agriculture Specialist with National Center for Appropriate Technology

Cain Silvey | Conservation Project Manager with SLO Land Conservancy

Alessandra Zambrano | Urban Forestry Specialist with Dudek
