The CSLRCD and Cal Poly SLO invite you to participate in a virtual field day for a CDFA Healthy Soils Program (HSP). During the virtual field day we will be going over the compost application and reduce-tillage trial that's taking place on a hay field at Cal Poly's Chorro Ranch.

We will also dive into the effects these practices have on a number of soil health and production metrics. A number of industry professionals will be present to answer questions. Please register using the google form before attending.
