Goals of Continuing Education Program at California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo

In order to promote the development of holistic student emotional health through the provision of confidential, accessible services, the Continuing Education Program of Counseling Services at California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo provides continuing education programs that focus on the most current scientific evidence regarding assessment, prevention, and intervention, and that promote best practices as they relate to college mental health issues. The Continuing Education Program ensures that doctoral-level psychologists maintain expertise in the field of psychology but providing topics and content that are sufficiently complex so as to continue building upon the foundation of doctoral-level education and training by assuring that programs go beyond what would be learned in a doctoral program.
