

FACULTY-IN-RESIDENCE (FIR)

The Faculty-in-Residence program is a partnership between Student Affairs and Academic Affairs that bridges academic and residential life for campus residents. While living in University Housing's residential communities, FiR participants form strong connections with residents, and become an integral academic and community partner. This opportunity is open to full-time faculty.

-  Academic connections: Faculty guests, informal dinners, and office hours where students live
-  Curricular activities: Special events, discussions, excursions and tours hosted by faculty
-  Collaborative communities: Opportunities for service projects and research partnerships

2021-22 / FACULTY-IN-RESIDENCE (LEFT TO RIGHT)

yak?it'ut'yu
Dr. Nishi Rajakaruna
Professor, Plant Biology

Cerro Vista
Dr. Joni Roberts
Assistant Professor,
Kinesiology and Public Health

Poly Canyon Village
Dr. Padma Maitland
Assistant Professor,
Art and Architecture

▲ Nishi enjoys a cup of tea with residents during the bi-weekly tea club he organizes in yak?it'ut'yu.

BENEFITS

To support you in promoting and fostering community within residence life, the FiR position includes the following benefits:

- Furnished one to four bedroom private apartment including utilities, cable, Wi-Fi and access to free laundry
- Campus Dining package for student connections at meals
- A domesticated pet - dog under 40 lbs, cat or up to a 10-gallon fish tank
- Funding for resident events and programs
- One year contract with the potential for renewal

QUESTIONS?

Email housing@calpoly.edu

GET MORE INFO & APPLY

housing.calpoly.edu/getinvolved