The Air Force Office of Scientific Research (AFOSR) is pleased to announce that the Department of Defense (DoD) National Defense Science and Engineering Graduate (NDSEG) Fellowship Program is now accepting applications for FY2021 until 2 November 2020.

We encourage faculty members and advisors to share this opportunity with students who are ultimately looking to gain a Doctorate and whose research and degree align with the DoD Services Broad Agency Announcements (BAAs).

The DoD NDSEG Fellowship is administered by Systems Plus, Inc. (www.sysplus.com) and promotes education in science and engineering (S&E) disciplines relevant to the AFOSR, the Army Research Office (ARO), and the Office of Naval Research (ONR) defense missions (see DoD Supporting Agencies page for details).

Qualified applicants may apply any time throughout the application period that will run from 3 August through 2 November 2020.

Applicants must be a U.S. citizen, U.S. nationals, or U.S. dual citizen and can find detailed instructions regarding eligibility, appointment requirements, the application process, etc., on the DoD NDSEG website (ndseg.sysplus.com) and are encouraged to start applying early.

Applications are encouraged from women, persons with disabilities and minorities, including members of ethnic minority groups such as Native American, African American, Hispanic American, Native Alaskan (Eskimo and Aleut) or Pacific Islander (Polynesian or Micronesian).

We are looking forward to receiving applications from qualified candidates.
