Cal Poly's Mission Statement

Cal Poly fosters teaching, scholarship, and service in a learn-by-doing environment where students and faculty are partners in discovery. As a polytechnic university, Cal Poly promotes the application of theory to practice. As a comprehensive institution, Cal Poly provides a balanced education in the arts, sciences, and technology, while encouraging cross-disciplinary and cocurricular experiences. As an academic community, Cal Poly values free inquiry, cultural and intellectual diversity, mutual respect, civic engagement, and social and environmental responsibility.

Statement of Purpose

When the legislature established Cal Poly in 1901, it acknowledged the need for varied educational opportunities and outlined special goals for this institution. Those special goals were reaffirmed by the Trustees of the California State University and Colleges and the Legislature in 1961 when Cal Poly's enabling act was revised and reenacted.

Certain functions of the California Polytechnic State University are held in common with all State University campuses, while others are unique to Cal Poly. The primary function is the provision of undergraduate instruction and graduate instruction through the master's degree (Education Code 66608). In addition to the functions provided by Section 66608, the California State Polytechnic University shall be authorized to emphasize the applied fields of agriculture, engineering, business, home economics, and other occupational and professional fields" (Education Code 90404).

Cal Poly undergraduate students identify with their majors from the beginning of their Cal Poly career. Students select majors at the time they apply for admission, and they take courses in their majors starting in their first year. This gives them a chance to decide early if they have chosen a field that is appropriate to their interests and abilities. It also helps students associate with faculty and other students in their field, share common interests, and learn in a supportive atmosphere.

"Learn by Doing"

"Learn by doing" has been part of Cal Poly's philosophy from the beginning. Cal Poly has evolved from a vocational high school into a major university, but a hands-on approach to teaching still remains. Classes emphasize active learning methods and include a high proportion of lab work and field work. Activities both on and off campus provide opportunities to apply what is learned in the classroom. Cal Poly's core values, as reaffirmed in its Visionary Pragmatism report, include "learning at the center of its endeavors," "the importance of continuous learning," and the preservation of "valuable student/faculty interrelationships."

Cal Poly emphasizes a complete education that teaches students to think logically, evaluate critically, and communicate clearly. Instruction incorporates the ideals of a good work ethic, honesty, and the acceptance of individual differences. The university promotes an effective education that will instill an appreciation for lifelong learning. Cal Poly is committed to excellence in all areas of education.

University Plans

Access to Excellence (May, 2008)

Access to Excellence focuses on the intersection of the California State University (CSU) with the economic, political, and social environment of the State of California. As a new strategic plan that builds upon and succeeds Cornerstones, Access to Excellence anticipates what the people of the state will need from the CSU in the next decade, and generally indicates how best to position the institution to meet those needs. It is a public statement of the principles and core values of the institution, framing broad strategic goals as the basis for setting the CSU's priorities and measuring its success over the next several years. At the same time, Access to Excellence identifies priorities for attention from policymakers and the broad public if California's educational needs are to be met:

Cal Poly Master Plan (March 21, 2001)

Looking toward the 21st century and the growing demand for higher education in the state of California, Cal Poly has applied the results of strategic planning efforts at the divisional and college levels to inform its long-term enrollment planning. The campus completed a physical master plan update based on these academic plans and enrollment scenarios. The Campus Planning Committee, consisting of campus and community representatives, oversees implementation of the plan. The California State University Board of Trustees approved the Master Plan and Environmental Impact Report (EIR) on March 21, 2001, after intensive comment from the campus and community. The Master Plan and the details about instructional facilities, student housing, and other projects involved can be accessed through the website:

<http://www.facilities.calpoly.edu/masterplan/masterplan.htm>.

The Cal Poly Plan

During the 1995-96 academic year, a steering committee representing organized campus constituency groups prepared the Cal Poly Plan. According to a set of principles including broad consultation, modest enrollment growth, and accountability for investments and outcomes, the Cal Poly Plan (a focused implementation of the Strategic Plan) seeks ways to enhance student learning, decrease student time to degree, enhance the productivity of faculty and staff, promote the more effective use of fixed resources, and implement comprehensive assessment and accountability procedures. The plan is funded through a partnership of the state, the university, patrons, and students and their families. By matching a campus-based academic fee with external sources, Cal Poly has sponsored educational initiatives to consolidate curricula, introduce technology-mediated instruction, and add 16 faculty positions. For additional information, the text of the Cal Poly Plan, a listing and description of the Cal Poly Plan projects, and a listing of the faculty supported by Cal Poly Plan funds, visit the Cal Poly Plan website: <http://www.academicaffairs.calpoly.edu/calpolyplan/>.

Commitment to Visionary Pragmatism (September 29, 1995)

Developed by a faculty committee, the "Commitment to Visionary Pragmatism" report developed a series of statements of the desired characteristics of a Cal Poly graduate. To implement the recommendations in this report, the university engaged in a comprehensive review of its general education program. The report can be read at <http://president.calpoly.edu/plans.asp?pid=2>.

The Cal Poly Strategic Plan (As Amended Through 1995)

Cal Poly's Strategic Plan was developed as a means to guide the university over the next several years. Embodying the university's Mission Statement, it established a direction for achieving the goals and priorities that will direct future planning, resource allocation, and decision making. The policies address the following topics: academic programs, faculty scholarship, staff professional growth and achievement, student satisfaction, diversity, governance and collegiality, institutional size, and university relations and image. The Strategic Plan is available at <http://president.calpoly.edu/plans.asp?pid=1>. The development of a new Strategic Plan is currently underway for implementation during the 2009-2010 academic year.

University Accreditation

Since 1951, the university has been fully accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), which may be contacted at: 985 Atlantic Avenue, Suite 100, Alameda, California 94501 (telephone: 510-748-9001). In preparation for reaffirmation of accreditation, a self-study is being conducted with "Our Polytechnic Identity" as its overarching theme. Campus visits will be held in 2010 (Capacity & Preparedness Review) and 2011 (Educational Effectiveness Review). For more information, see <http://wasc.calpoly.edu/>.

Administrative Organization

Four Administrative Divisions

The university is organized administratively into four divisions: Academic Affairs, Student Affairs, Administration and Finance, and University Advancement. The academic division is organized into six colleges, each with its own dean. Academic Affairs also includes the Library, Research and Graduate Programs, and Information Technology Services. University organizational charts are available at <http://president.calpoly.edu/>.

Other Special Programs that Support the University Mission

The Alumni Association keeps in touch with many of the 150,000 students who have attended Cal Poly through a variety of alumni functions, both educational and social, on and off campus, throughout California, and across the nation (<http://www.alumni.calpoly.edu/>).

Associated Students, Inc., (ASI) is a nonprofit, public-benefit corporation run by student officers and a board of directors using student fees to provide the finest collegiate experience possible. With an $8 million annual budget, ASI offers a wide variety of programs and services within three locations on the campus: the University Union, the Recreation Center, and the ASI Children's Center (<http://www.asi.calpoly.edu/>).

Cal Poly Continuing Education and University Outreach provides access to degree, certificate, and professional development programs and services of the university to the citizens of San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, and Monterey Counties and through distance learning technologies to students across the country (<http://www.continuing-ed.calpoly.edu/>).

Cal Poly Corporation is a public-benefit, nonprofit corporation and university auxiliary. It provides the fiscal means, management procedures, and key support services that enable the university to provide instructional and support services not normally furnished by the state or that would not otherwise be available due to legal, purchasing, and other fiscal restrictions (<http://www.calpolycorporation.org/>).

The Cal Poly Foundation is a new auxiliary organization created to lead campus philanthropic activity and manage endowments and investments. The new Cal Poly Foundation will focus on fund raising and asset management. For information on the new foundation, contact Sandra Ogren, Vice President for University Advancement, at 756-1445 or sogren@calpoly.edu.

Cal Poly Housing Corporation (CPHC) is also a public-benefit, nonprofit corporation and university auxiliary. Its purpose is to develop, provide, and maintain affordable housing for faculty and staff consistent with the teaching, research, and community service mission of the university (<http://www.cphousingcorp.org>).

Admissions Profile

There were 37,999 total applications in Fall 2009, which is a decrease of 2.6% from last year. The number of total applications had increased from a low of 13,441 in Fall 1993 to a high of 39,026 in Fall 2008.

Fall 2009 first-time freshmen (FTF) applications decreased by 1,863 (5.6%) from last year after climbing steadily since Fall 1993 to an all-time high in Fall 2008. This decrease is most likely due to the reduction of application fee waivers, limiting the number of campuses for which students can apply.

Fall 2009 new transfer applications have been up and down over the years. New transfer applications are up 16.4% from last year.

Fall 2009 new post-baccalaureate/graduate applications increased 13.1% from last year.

Enrollment Profile

Due to a decrease in the state budget, Cal Poly decreased its enrollment in Fall 2009. The 19,325 total students enrolled is a 0.7% decrease from Fall 2008.

The decrease in enrollment occurred in both undergraduate and post-baccalaureate student populations. Undergraduate headcount enrollment decreased 1.2% from Fall 2008. Post-baccalaureate headcount, which is comprised mostly of credential students, decreased 15.6% from Fall 2008.

Graduate enrollment rose to 882 students in Fall 2009, an increase of 11.9% from Fall 2008.

Notes: Post-baccalaureate category consists of credential and non-degree-seeking students. Graduate category consists of students who are pursuing master's degrees.

Beginning in Fall 2008, second-bachelor's students are counted as undergraduates to conform with federal reporting standards.

AVERAGE STUDENT CREDIT UNIT LOAD

The undergraduate average unit load jumped to a record high of 14.55 in Fall 2009. This is also the largest one-year increase on record.

Registration procedures in Fall 2009 differed from previous Fall terms in that new freshmen were block scheduled, and continuing students registered earlier than usual: in May as opposed to August. The differences in these registration patterns likely contributed to the increase in average loads.

The graduate student average unit load had been increasing from Fall 2005 through Fall 2008 but decreased to the 10.98 unit mark in Fall 2009.

Degrees Awarded Profile

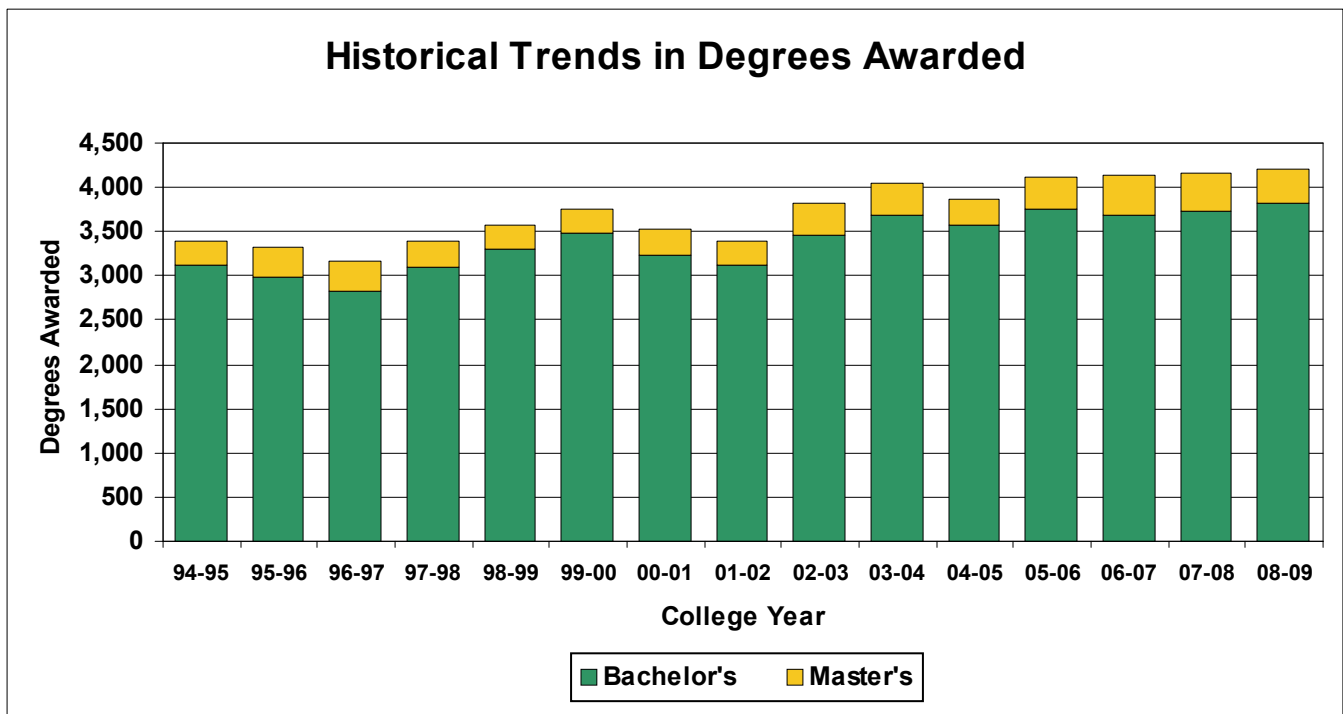

The number of degrees awarded has fluctuated from year to year. Cal Poly had a low of 3,109 degrees awarded in college year 1990-1991 and a high of 4,215 degrees awarded in college year 2008-09. College year 1996-1997 also showed a low point in the trends, while the most recent six college years are higher than any of the previous years.

Cal Poly awarded 3,824 bachelor's degrees in college year 2008-2009. This is a 2.7% increase from college year 2007-08.

Cal Poly awarded 391 master's degrees in college year 2008-2009. This is a 11.9% decrease from college year 2007-08.

Notes:

- A college year consists of all four academic quarters, with the Summer quarter as a lead quarter (e.g., Summer 2008 is part of college year 2008-2009).
- Institutional Planning & Analysis now reports degrees awarded based on the students' actual term of completion rather than the date the degree was posted, as was done in earlier publications. While this allows for more accurate reporting of actual completion as well as more appropriate graduation rate reporting, these figures may change in future publications because degrees can be posted for students retroactively.
- Degrees awarded is not an unduplicated headcount. Students who receive more than one degree are counted for each degree they receive.

In addition, students who died or left for military service are allowable exclusions; therefore, persistence rates are calculated on a revised cohort that may be slightly lower than the original cohort.

Employee Profile

In Fall 2009 Cal Poly had a total of 2,597 employees, who generated 2,197.5 paid FTE (full-time equivalent). There were 1,225 staff, 174 management, and 1,198 faculty. Fall 2009 faculty generated 931.2 instructional FTE.

Faculty and staff make up 93.3% of Cal Poly employees (46.1% and 47.2% respectively).

Academic Affairs is the division with the majority of employees, with 70.7% of total employees.

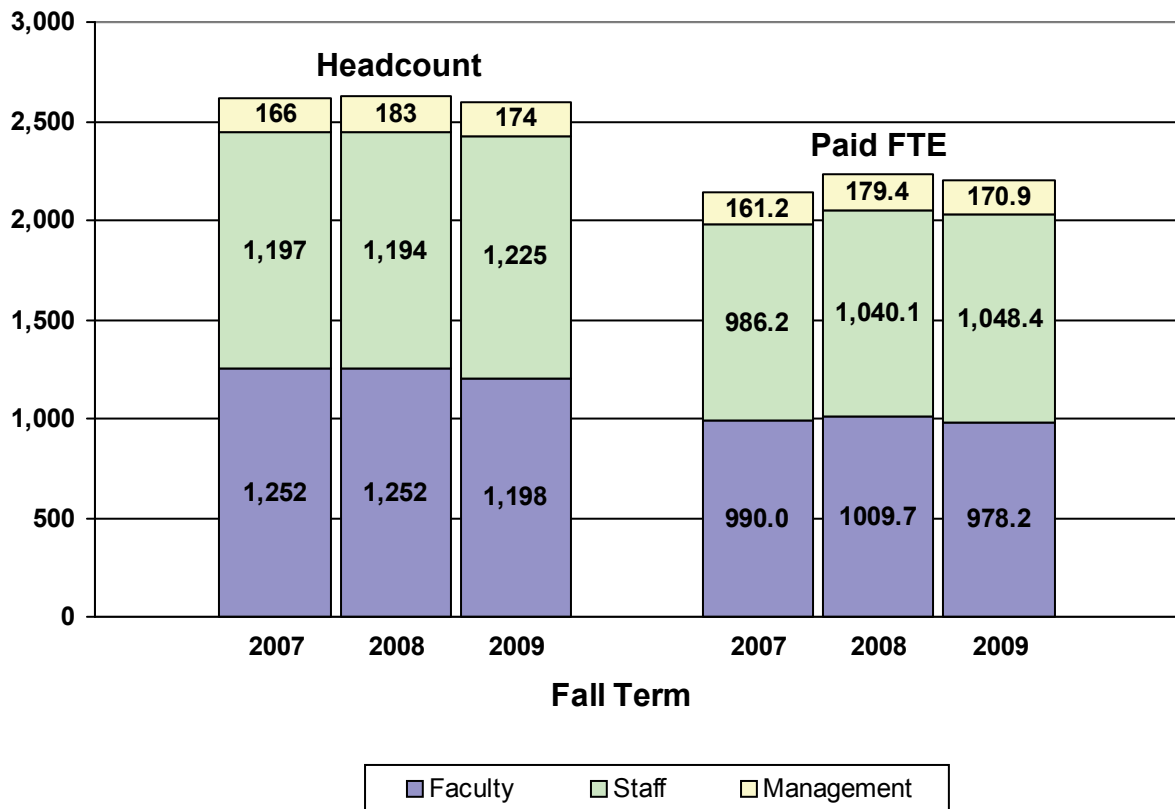

The average age of Cal Poly employees is 47 years, and the median years of service is 7 years.

Of Tenured and tenure-track faculty, 95.6% have a doctorate or the terminal degree in their field.

Notes:

- Employees can have multiple appointments. For headcounts, employees are only counted once in each employee type and once in the total employees profile according to their primary appointment.
- Whereas headcounts are according to primary appointments, FTE (full-time equivalent) is a summation of each individual appointment.
- “Paid” FTE is the amount of FTE the employee is paid for. In the faculty profile, “instructional” FTE is the portion of “paid” FTE devoted to instructional activities, including release time.
- Faculty FTE figures may differ slightly from previous Fact Books, because some inconsistencies were found and corrected.
