

Fall 2011 Census Enrollment

Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo

UNIVERSITY HEADCOUNT ENROLLMENT

Cal Poly's enrollment increased in Fall 2011. This is primarily due to a higher-than-expected yield of our incoming first-time-freshman class. Cal Poly's 18,762 total students enrolled in Fall 2011 is a 2.2% increase from Fall 2010.

Undergraduate headcount enrollment increased 2.3% from Fall 2010.

AVERAGE UNDERGRADUATE LOAD

The Fall 2011 undergraduate average unit load of 14.34 is a 1.3% decrease from last year's average of 14.53.

The unexpected increase in first-time-freshman yield, which contributed to an increased enrollment, along with a decrease in state funding resulting in limited course availability are the main factors that contributed to the drop in average unit loads. However, this drop is mitigated by Cal Poly's improvements in efficiency and student throughput.

The Fall 2011 graduate student average unit load of 11.58 is a 2.8% increase from last year's average of 11.26.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT BY ETHNIC ORIGIN

Fall 2011 Total Enrollment

Of the Fall 2011 total student population, 12.9% identify themselves as Hispanic/Latino, and 10.8% identify themselves as Asian American.

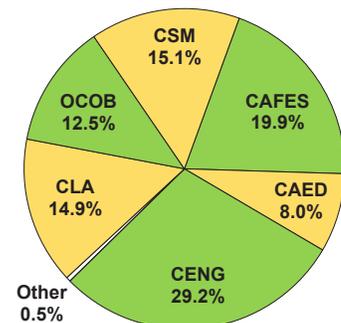

A typical grouping of ethnic origins that is referred to as “under-represented minorities” (URM) consists of Hispanic, African American, and Native American. Cal Poly’s URM proportion of total enrollment for Fall 2011 is 14.1%.

Note: As of Summer 2009, Cal Poly converted to the new federal standards for collecting and reporting ethnicity. Among the changes is a new option for students to identify themselves in multiple races. Because of the new “multi-racial” category, we no longer aggregate students into a “non-white” category.
