Friday, January 25, 2019*

**Check-In will be available between 9 AM and 4:30 PM in the Performing Arts Center Lobby*

9:10 AM – 10:00 AM: Check In and Breakfast, Performing Arts Center Lobby

10:10 AM – 11:00 AM: Welcome and Opening Student Keynote, Performing Arts Center Lobby

11:10 AM – 12:00 PM: Breakout Session 1

- Social Identities and Allyship with Kari Mansager, UU 219
  - Learn about your own social identities, explore the concept of privilege, and how to channel one's privileges into allyship for marginalized communities.
- Horizontal Leadership with Louel Isaac Ibe, UU 216
  - Is there a way to streamline the leadership experience? This presentation explores the experience first-year residents and how leadership was born in a residential community.
- Preparing for the Workforce during #MeToo with Kara Samaniego, Santa Lucia TV Lounge
  - Navigating sexual violence as you enter the professional world can be daunting, we want to give actionable guidance that allows everyone to speak confidently about this topic.
- Leading with Actions with Elizabeth Esparza, Muir Hall TV Lounge
  - Students are often faced with situations where they may have to make difficult decisions about the actions they take. This seminar will focus on how students can make positive decisions in those situations and lead with their actions.

12:10 PM – 1:00 PM: Lunch with Keynote Speaker Mayor Heidi Harmon, Performing Arts Center Lobby

1:10 PM – 2:00 PM: Breakout Session 2

- UndocuLeader with Imelda Meza, UU 219

- The purpose of this workshop is to educate participants about our UndocuLeaders of today's society. Participants will gain knowledge about supporting UndocuLeaders through the understanding of language, resources, thriving, and more. This thought-provoking workshop will provide content on institutional change in order to create an UndocuFriendly community.
- Conscious Leadership: Finding the Third Way with Jennifer Britton, UU 216
  - Participants will confront real examples of polarities and work through finding alignment in seemingly impossible scenarios and have an introduction to conscious leadership concepts.
- Remembering Why You Decided to Become a Leader with Kshitij Mehta, Muir Hall TV Lounge
  - Leadership is everywhere around us and being involved at the small to the largest levels can make a deeper impact than you think.
- Building a Balanced Team with Nick Lampe, Mikaela Reed and Julia Shaw, Muir Hall TV Lounge
  - Everyone has their own personal leadership style, and it is important to showcase different kinds of leaders in all of our programs. In this session, we will provide helpful tips to building a balanced team through recruitment, selection, and training.

2:10 PM – 3:00 PM: Dialogues

- Untitled: Leading from the Pack with Steve Ross, Black Academic Excellence Center Bldg 52 Rm E23
  - Leadership is often seen as a privilege reserved for people at the front of the line and that's just not true. I want to challenge us to think about leadership as who we are and how we operate on a daily basis.
- Man Enough to Lead? with Nick Bilich and Winston Chang, Men & Masculinities Bldg 52 Rm E5
  - Examining hegemonic masculinity's impact on leadership concepts
- A Voice for The Undocumented Community with Daniela Garcia and Imelda Meza, Dream Center Bldg 52 Rm E11
  - An open dialogue in a safe and brave space that will discuss the ways one can be a leader within the undocumented community. We will share success stories about our leadership opportunities at the Dream Center from a student perspective.

- Womxn Navigating Leadership with Alicia Lindheimer and Leilani Hemmings-Pallay, Gender Equity Center UU 217
  - A brave space for aspiring leaders to learn about integrating gender identity, the use of pronouns, feminism, intersectionality, and more into their leadership journeys!

- Leaders in the Disability Rights Movement, Bailey Hamblin, John Lee and Chrisy Chand, UU 216
  - Want to know how you can include disability in your social justice efforts? Learn about key moments and leaders within disability rights history in the U.S. and how they helped foster greater inclusion of disabled people in society. Members of the Cal Poly Disability Faculty Staff Association will encourage you to see disability as diversity and to recognize how disability often intersects with other marginalized identities. You'll leave with resources for creating accessible and inclusive experiences and for learning more about prominent disabled individuals leading social justice efforts today.

- Gender-Based Violence Prevention Allyship & Advocacy with Shelby Bachelder, UU 218
  - A dialogue about developing anti-violence primary prevention strategies as a skill for a new generation of leaders.

- Quiet Influence: the Introverted Leader with Halie Swanson, Julia Shaw and Madison Beine, UU 219
  - An open dialogue to tackle the traditional stereotype that introverts can't be strong leaders. Participants will learn where they fall on the introversion-extroversion scale. We will discuss the benefits of having multiple personality types in an organization and how introverts can thrive in leadership positions. We want to relay the message that anyone and everyone can be a leader; each personality type is unique and can contribute to any leadership experience. We have learned to thrive in environments that typically cater to extroverted leaders, and we want to share our experience and learn from others as well!

3:10 PM – 4:00 PM: Breakout Session 3

- DIY Leadership with Tonya, Lauren and Rachel, UU 219
  - Leadership (n): Positional, extroverted, confident, go-getter, involved... we want to debunk myths what it means to be a leader at Cal Poly. Join your Cal Poly peers to discuss how authenticity, vulnerability and engaging in conversation across positional leadership structures can allow everyone to be the leader they have within themselves.

- Inclusivity Beyond Cal Poly, Arelly Ocampo, Audrey Garces, Elysa Briens, and Samantha Gonzalez, UU 216
  - During our time at Cal Poly, we create our safe space. We collaborate with others who accept us, value us, and validate us. But what happens after graduation? How do we continue creating these safe and welcoming spaces?
- Marketing Tools, Tricks, and Strategies with Nicky Sandoz, Santa Lucia Hall TV Lounge
  - A seminar on how to be successful in inclusive marketing, marketing tactics, and other outreach strategies.
- What a Leader Sounds Like: Inclusive Language with Elaine Lê, Muir Hall TV Lounge
  - In this program, we'll explore the power of language and the voice of an effective leader through examining our own identities, deconstructing biased and oppressive language, and practicing inclusive language.

4:10 PM – 4:30 PM: Awards Ceremony and Prize Drawing, Performing Arts Center Lobby
