

CAL POLY

Office of the President

Cal Poly Community,

At Cal Poly, we believe one of the highest callings is service to others — whether through teaching, volunteering or civic engagement. Tomorrow, on Veteran's Day, we specifically honor those who served in our military.

Please join me in thanking the many CSU, Cal Poly and Cal Poly Maritime students, alumni, faculty, staff and extended family members who have served in the armed forces. On behalf of the university, I offer veterans our sincere gratitude.

As you enjoy a day away from your classes, laboratories and offices, please consider doing one of the following:

- Give back through volunteer service.
- Learn more about Cal Poly's Center for Military-Connected Students.
- Congratulate a member of the Cal Poly Army ROTC, which placed highest in the nation at Advanced Camp 2025 this past summer.
- Celebrate the 250-year anniversary of the Marine Corps.
- Consider how you can serve our community.

Most importantly, please thank a veteran for their service.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey D. Armstrong
President
