The Learning Research and Development Center (LRDC) at the University of Pittsburgh is seeking summer undergraduate interns to promote broader participation in training in the Learning Sciences. The internship program will run from June 1st - July 31st, 2020 and all participants are expected to be in residence for the entire program. Housing and a stipend will be provided. A limited number of travel supplements are available to fund student travel to and from Pittsburgh.

Learn more about the program in the attachment and at http://www.lrdc.pitt.edu/Diversity/internship/

Eligibility requirements: Students should have a primary field of study in an area relevant to the learning sciences. GPA should be over 3.0, however promise can be demonstrated through other means, such as letters of recommendation, student background, research experience, etc. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Institution. Women and members of under-represented minority groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Applications are due no later than March 9th and should be completed at the following website: https://form.jotform.com/200333515915145. Applicants will be informed of the decision by March 23rd. One or more letters of recommendation from a faculty member should be submitted on behalf of applicants directly to LRDCInterns@Pitt.edu by March 9th.

Email questions to the intern program co-director, Tim Nokes-Malach, at nokes@pitt.edu.