forward to embarking on this global journey with you!

Note from Dr. Kirby

The safety, health, and Research Integrity through a Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Lens

This workshop series that is with explorations of different conceptualizations of 'the environment' and 'the Anthropocene' through examinations of historic and current texts, maps, and unpack power-knowledge-environment-technology configurations. Leveraging Environmental being. This is not a workshop run by Counseling Services.

We will be holding info sessions through Jan and Feb. Please check the International Center's Vietnam: History and Culture. Students will take two courses: HIST 319 Modern Southeast Asia and how they can take ownership of their role in moving the needle with regard to social change. CSA hopes that attendees will leave with a new-found sense and understanding of social justice, inclusive voices, and stories of historically marginalized communities.
