WEEKLY NEWS 2/24

NOTE FROM DR. RYALLS

Happy week 8, All! This Friday, 2/27 is the last opportunity students have to withdraw from any courses for “serious and compelling reasons” and/or to change to a CR/NC grading option via Student Center. If you have questions about either of these options, reach out to a college advisor.

We hope you'll join us this week for ISLA's 5th annual Social Justice Film Festival. This year's theme is “Migration,” which I'm sure you'll all agree is very timely and important.

On Night One, Wednesday, February 25 at 4:10PM in 33-286, "Crossing Borders: Media Representations of Migration and Justice" will feature 2 segments from a recent episode of 60 Minutes: one on Minneapolis and another on CECOT and two short films. Following the films, Dr. Melissa Manzanares will host a discussion and Q&A.

On Night Two, Thursday, February 26, we will screen at the Palm Theatre, followed by a talk from Dr. Stina Attebery. Doors open at 4PM and the event begins at 4:10. Admission is free.

My office hours are Monday 2PM-4PM and Thursday 12PM-2PM. During these times, we can meet in my office (52-D3) or via Zoom. Please be sure to schedule an appointment. You can also contact Dr. Matthew Harsh (mharsh), the interim STS Director.

ASSISTANT!

Hi everyone! I'm Keely, a fourth year ISLA major/STS minor. I am also the ISLA student assistant!

I create these newsletters, run our ISLA & STS social media, and support events throughout the quarter. I'm also here as a resource for you — whether you have questions about your STS minor, need help navigating course selection, or want to get more involved in the STS community.

✉ My contact information: kfrobot@calpoly.edu

I'd love to hear from you — don't hesitate to reach out, connect, or say hi around campus.

MUSTANG FILM SOCIETY

Mustang Film Society is a new club on campus aimed at fostering a community around film and providing students interested in film with opportunities to connect to others in the film industry and explore their interests! This may be of interest to any MAST minor students.

If interested, please contact Dr. Emily Ryalls at eyalls@calpoly.edu or follow the Instagram @mustangfilmsociety

CAREERS & INTERNSHIPS

Career & Internship Opportunities You Don't Want to Miss!

Winter quarter is packed with exciting opportunities—mark your calendars and take advantage of what's coming up!

Dream Out Loud

Dream Out Loud is a call to CSU students, faculty, and alumni to share the stories that brought you here, shaped you, and keep you moving forward. You can share your own OR someone else's story (think Ryan Coogler, Billie Jean King, etc.)

The CSUEA will select a handful of these stories to create statewide and potentially even national PSA campaigns. Selected participants will work with creative professionals to help craft their story into multiple media types (think tv spots, radio commercials, billboards, and more) to share with the world. Your voice matters — and we hope to hear it!

Create a short PSA about your CSU journey

Or spotlight someone who inspired your path

Any medium. Any style. Your voice. Your story.

We are currently looking for the story, not the finished product — a short, written treatment is all that is needed!

Submission DEADLINE EXTENDED to March 1, 2026 — For more information, go to CSUEA.submittable.com

If you have questions about any of these opportunities, don't hesitate to reach out—we're here to help!

ENROLLMENT

DATA ARE A FEMINIST ISSUE

“ Considers how inequality permeates all stages of data science. ”

“ Looks at many axes of inequity including race, gender, class, ability status, and more. ”

“ A data science that exposes and challenges power and the intersecting oppressions that result. ”

Come take Data Feminism (STAT 270) with Dr. Theobold on Tuesdays from 12-2

Course Spotlight: Data Are a Feminist Issue (STAT 270)

Data Are a Feminist Issue explores how inequality is embedded in every stage of data science—from data collection to analysis and interpretation. Using an intersectional framework, the course examines how power, race, gender, class, ability status, and other forms of inequity shape data and its real-world impacts. Interested in using data to challenge systems of oppression rather than reinforce them? Enroll in Data Feminism (STAT 270) with Dr. Theopold, meeting Tuesdays from 12–2.

Cal Poly Student Projects for Palestinian Liberation

Thursday, Feb 26th

Fisher Science
33-286
Cal Poly, SLO

6:10PM - 7:30PM

AN INTERDISCIPLINARY PANEL

Four Cal Poly student researchers representing journalism, literature/book arts, agriculture, and tech4liberation will share their decolonial praxis from their respective disciplines.

This panel is hosted on the unceded land of YTT; it is from this settler colonial institution that we practice solidarity with Indigenous peoples by recognizing the immeasurable destruction of knowledge with every university lost in Gaza.

Free and Open to the Public

This event brings together four Cal Poly student researchers for an interdisciplinary panel on decolonial praxis, resistance, and solidarity. Panelists representing journalism, literature/book arts, agriculture, and tech4liberation will share how their academic and creative work responds to ongoing violence against education and knowledge production in Palestine.

 Thursday, Feb. 26

 6:10–7:30 p.m.

 Fisher Science 33–286, Cal Poly

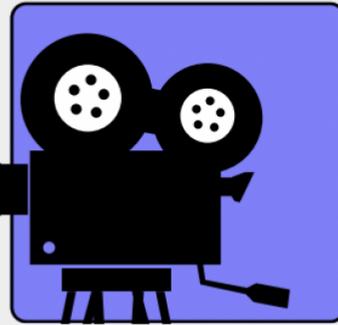

This event centers student scholarship as a site of political engagement and collective care, while acknowledging the panel’s location on unceded YTT land and expressing solidarity with Indigenous peoples and with Gaza, where universities and knowledge systems continue to be systematically destroyed.

Free and open to the public.

Social Justice Film Festival Series

The Cal Poly ISLA Department invites you to the Social Justice Film Festival, a two-night series using film and discussion to explore migration, justice, labor, and technology.

Night One: Crossing Borders: Media Representations of Migration and Justice

 February 25 at 4:10 PM

 Building 33, Room 286

A film by Professor Randi Barros, followed by a discussion with Dr. Melissa Manzanares, examining how migration and justice are represented in media.

Night Two: Sleep Dealer

 February 26 at 4:10 PM

 Palm Theater

A thought-provoking sci-fi film exploring borders, labor, and technology in a globalized world, followed by a discussion with Dr. Stina Attebery.

 Free admission and open to all students—don't miss this chance to engage with film, ethics, and social justice.

 Kal Penn: From White Castle to the White House

Cal Poly Arts, celebrating its 40th Anniversary season, presents an evening with Kal Penn—Emmy-nominated actor, author, producer, and former Associate Director of the White House Office of Public Engagement—on Thursday, February 26, 2026 at 7:30 p.m. at the Performing Arts Center San Luis Obispo.

In this onstage event, presented in partnership with the Cal Poly Center for Service in Action, Penn shares his real-life journey from Hollywood to public service, reflecting on his work in arts education, public policy, and student engagement. Through stories from film, television, and the White House, Penn highlights how taking risks and pursuing multiple passions can lead to a fulfilling and impactful career.

Penn is known for his roles in Harold & Kumar, House, Designated Survivor, How I Met Your Mother, and The Namesake. During the Obama administration, he stepped away from acting to serve as the President's Liaison to Young Americans, Asian American and Pacific Islander communities, and the Arts, and later served on the President's Committee for the Arts and Humanities.

 Faculty and staff receive 20% off adult tickets, and students can purchase tickets starting at $17 through the Cal Poly Ticket Office.

CAMPUS HEALTH
& WELLBEING

Cal Poly's Alcohol and Other Drug (AOD) Prevention team is partnering with ISLA to support student safety and wellness. With fentanyl-related overdoses on the rise nationally and locally, it's more important than ever to know how to recognize an overdose and respond effectively.

Join the AOD for a brief, interactive training covering:

- How to identify an opioid overdose
- How to safely administer Narcan (Naloxone)
- How to access free Narcan + Overdose Prevention Kits

Students can pick up supplies at Building 27 (Health Center) or during weekly distributions: Tuesdays, 3–5 PM and Thursdays, 3:30–5:30 PM on the Health Lawn.

Want us to come to your space for a distribution or presentation? We're happy to schedule a time that works for you!

OPPORTUNITIES

Cal Poly AI Ethics Lab (AI/EL)

The Cal Poly Artificial Intelligence Ethics Lab (AI/EL) is an interdisciplinary student–faculty partnership dedicated to exploring the ethical, legal, and social challenges posed by emerging AI technologies. The lab creates space for students to engage in meaningful discussions about AI ethics, examine the technical realities behind proposed solutions, and learn about current research in the field. AI/EL also offers opportunities to connect with faculty and explore future research and academic endeavors related to AI and society.

Students from all disciplines are welcome to get involved.

Survey Support

As part of an Intro to Entrepreneurship course project, a Cal Poly student team is conducting research to validate a potential student-focused product idea. They've created two brief surveys—each only a few minutes long—to better understand student needs and experiences. Your responses will provide valuable insights that support their class project.
