SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY AND SOCIETY

WEEKLY NEWS 3/10

NOTE FROM DR. RYALLS

These last few weeks have been quite busy for all of us! Between registration, the last week of classes, and finals week nearly upon us, I encourage all of you to try to find some time to breathe.

If there's anything I can do to make your lives just a bit easier, don't hesitate to reach out. I'm leaving tomorrow morning for Dublin, so I won't have any more meetings this week, but I will be checking email frequently. During Final Exam Week, my student hours will be Tuesday and Wednesday 11AM-2PM. Click here to schedule an appointment.

MEET KEELY - YOUR ISLA/STS STUDENT ASSISTANT!

Hi everyone! I'm Keely, a fourth year ISLA major/STS minor. I am also the ISLA student assistant!

I create these newsletters, run our ISLA & STS social media, and support events throughout the quarter. I'm also here as a resource for you — whether you have questions about your STS minor, need help navigating course selection, or want to get more involved in the STS community.

 My contact information:

kfrobert@calpoly.edu

I'd love to hear from you — don't hesitate to reach out, connect, or say hi around campus.

ES 470: Los Angeles: Race, Culture, and Urbanization (Spring 2026)

Looking for an upper-division elective? Join ES 470: Los Angeles: Race, Culture, and Urbanization, taught by Dr. Gabriel Soldatenko in the Ethnic Studies Department. This course explores the history of Los Angeles—from its origins as a pueblo to its rise as a global metropolis—examining the social, political, and cultural forces that have shaped the city’s urban landscape and the communities who call it home.

Engaging with thinkers such as Chester Himes, Raul Villa, and Henri Lefebvre, students will explore race, space, and everyday life in Southern California through a philosophical and historical lens.

- 📍 Spring 2026
- 📅 MW 10:10 AM – 12:00 PM
- 📍 Building 38-114

This course is ideal for ES majors and minors in need of an upper-division related elective. Reach out to Dr. Gabriel Soldatenko (gsoldate@calpoly.edu) for more information.

DATA ARE A FEMINIST ISSUE

“ Considers how inequality permeates all stages of data science. ”

“ Looks at many axes of inequity including race, gender, class, ability status, and more. ”

“ A data science that exposes and challenges power and the intersecting oppressions that result. ”

Come take Data Feminism (STAT 270) with Dr. Theobold on Tuesdays from 12-2

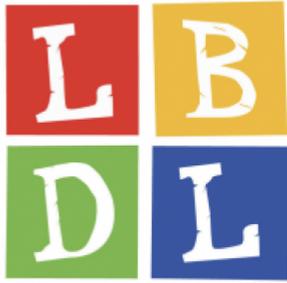

Course Spotlight: Data Are a Feminist Issue (STAT 270)

Data Are a Feminist Issue explores how inequality is embedded in every stage of data science—from data collection to analysis and interpretation. Using an intersectional framework, the course examines how power, race, gender, class, ability status, and other forms of inequity shape data and its real-world impacts. Interested in using data to challenge systems of oppression rather than reinforce them? Enroll in Data Feminism (STAT 270) with Dr. Theopold, meeting Tuesdays from 12–2.

EVENTS

MARCH 14 | 7:00PM | THE PALM THEATRE

WHAT MOVES US: PINA BAUSCH AND EMBODIED COGNITION

FILM AND CONVERSATION WITH DR. KELLY
BENNION & DANCER KATIE NEVILLE

Move, Think, and Experience Pina on the Big Screen

Step into the breathtaking world of dance and discovery at What Moves Us: Pina Bausch and Embodied Cognition on March 14 at 7:00 PM at the Palm Theatre. This special evening begins with a screening of Pina, the visually stunning film honoring the revolutionary choreographer Pina Bausch. After the film, stay for a dynamic conversation with Dr. Kelly Bennion and dancer Katie Neville as they explore embodied cognition—how movement and the body shape the way we think, feel, and understand the world.

Whether you're passionate about film, psychology, dance, or creative expression, this event offers a unique chance to experience how art and science move us—literally and intellectually.

Join us at the Palm Theatre on March 14 and discover what movement can teach us.

CAL POLY
Health Education
CAMPUS HEALTH
& WELLBEING

Cal Poly's Alcohol and Other Drug (AOD) Prevention team is partnering with ISLA to support student safety and wellness. With fentanyl-related overdoses on the rise nationally and locally, it's more important than ever to know how to recognize an overdose and respond effectively.

Join the AOD for a brief, interactive training covering:

- How to identify an opioid overdose
- How to safely administer Narcan (Naloxone)
- How to access free Narcan + Overdose Prevention Kits

Students can pick up supplies at Building 27 (Health Center) or during weekly distributions:

Tuesdays, 3–5 PM and Thursdays, 3:30–5:30 PM on the Health Lawn.

Want us to come to your space for a distribution or presentation? We're happy to schedule a time that works for you!

OPPORTUNITIES

Cal Poly AI Ethics Lab (AI/EL)

The Cal Poly Artificial Intelligence Ethics Lab (AI/EL) is an interdisciplinary student–faculty partnership dedicated to exploring the ethical, legal, and social challenges posed by emerging AI technologies. The lab creates space for students to engage in meaningful discussions about AI ethics, examine the technical realities behind proposed solutions, and learn about current research in the field. AI/EL also offers opportunities to connect with faculty and explore future research and academic endeavors related to AI and society.

Students from all disciplines are welcome to get involved.

Survey Support

As part of an Intro to Entrepreneurship course project, a Cal Poly student team is conducting research to validate a potential student-focused product idea. They've created two brief surveys—each only a few minutes long—to better understand student needs and experiences. Your responses will provide valuable insights that support their class project.
